

Next meeting of The Nameless Ones will be as usual at 8pm, Wednesday, April 2, 1952, in the Student Union Building on the University of Washington campus, Seattle.

NEW OFFICERS

Ted Ross has become the new President of the Nameless and will wield the official Nameless bone for the next six months. Ready to take over in the event that Ted falters is Vice President Bob Rosling. New recording Secretary and official keeper of the official bone is Ed Wyman. Corresponding secretary is still Wally Weber. Alderson Fry, of course, remains permanent club librarian, and Ted Ross will continue to be auctioneer.

The two officers of the University branch of the Nameless Ones, Ron McBeth and Carlene Bosselman, were unanimously voted back into these offices.

SUGGESTIONS WANTED

The last meeting was generally agreed to have been about the dullest meeting the club has managed to put on in a long time. Perhaps the let-down was noticed more because it followed the above average meeting in which Mr. Barker showed the color slides from India. The lack of a program certainly hurts, discourages future attendance. A poor program can often be worse than no program.

We'd like suggestions. What would you enjoy seeing at the club meetings? Debates? What on? Talks? What about? Movies? What sort? Possibly you would care to do something yourself but have been bashful about doing anything about it. This is no time for shyness! If there be frustrated actors and actresses among us, let them patch together a skit to present to the club! Forget the consequences; the club needs blood.

We'd also like some discussion concerning the auctions of magazines. For a long while none were held due to poor attendance and other factors. Last meeting one was held but did not hold the club interest despite some good material. Mr. Ross is beginning to tire a bit of dragging the box of magazines around to every meeting and not getting them sold. A suggestion was made that we describe some of the magazines in the CRY and let the readers bid on them by mail, or that we advertise the magazines by placing an add in some fanzine published for that sort of thing. We'd like opinions and suggestions.

YET ANOTHER ADDRESS

You people will be getting sick of this address changing pretty soon, but nevertheless it will continue to change. Your corresponding secretary has at long last managed to flunk out of college and can no longer remain on campus. For that reason club correspondence should be mailed to:

Wally Weber
4003 7th Ave. N.E.
Seattle 5, Washington

This address will be good at least until the end of May, by which time a more permanent address will come into effect.

Do not fear for mail sent to the old address; it will take a while longer to arrive, but the post office department has a forwarding address and can without doubt be trusted to eventually deliver the goods. It's the coming change that will probably shatter the post-office department.

MONEY!

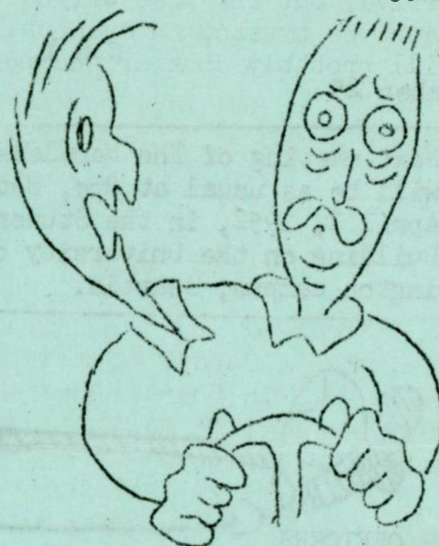

March 9, 1952

Cry of the Nameless:

Enclosed find a dollar bill.

This is my annual gesture along about this time to keep C. of the N. coming to

Mrs. Elsie Allen
2922 North 16th Street
Tacoma 6, Washington

YE GODS I THOUGHT
YOU WERE DRIVING!

All the while I have been corresponding secretary I thought Mrs. Allen owed her position at the top of the mailing list to the alphabetical characteristics of her name. I am happy to know now the true reason. Thanks a million Mrs. Allen!

FANTASY MOVIES

A series of fantastic moving pictures will start April 10 at the University of Washington. Called the "Eerie Series," the pictures will be shown in the auditorium of the Health Sciences building on Thursdays with a different picture being shown each Thursday. Each picture will be shown three times; 4, 7 and 9pm. The cost of admission is 50¢ per person, or a series ticket can be obtained for all six films for $2.50. Students having their ASUW cards will be able to attend the 4pm showings for 25¢.

The films are as follows:

- April 10--"Devil and Daniel Webster"
- April 17--"Invisible Man"
- April 24--"Spectre of the Rose"
- May 1--"Shadow of a Doubt"
- May 8--"The Damned" (terrific French melodrama)
- May 15--"Dead of Night"

BONE REWOUND

Ed Wyman, elected just last meeting to the position of recording secretary, had not been in office over an hour before he set himself to work. Guardianship of the club bone is part of his duties, and close observation revealed that the copper wire that had been wound around the bone for a grip had some slack in it. Immediately Mr. Wyman unwound the wire and, with the help of Pat Doyle who seems interested in such club projects, rewound the grip on the bone.

(The CRY brings you all the news.)

LETTER FROM GONSER

This letter was written to Burnett Toskey rather than to the CRY, but we felt it had in it enough of club interest to merit reprinting here.

Hi, Burnett—

Got the latest "Cry" today, and I see that #5 of "Impossible" is out. Well, don't just sit there—send me one!!! I'm enclosing 5 3¢ stamps which should cover the cost of mailing, too. If it don't, I'll send more. I had almost given up hope of seeing it, but here it is! Hurray!!!

Got a letter from Jerry the other day. Lucky dog, he is staging variety shows for the U.S.O. down there. Terrible hard job, working with all those Texas wimmin!

Wish I could have seen those slides at the last meeting. Damn this hospital anyhow. But I have some prospects of getting up soon. In fact, I should be up for it Monday, if I can get an X-ray taken tomorrow. Tuesday is the 6 months' anniversary of my grand opening, and then I am eligible to get up legally.

I've got a stack of assorted stf mags out here, including the last 5 Galaxys and some of the later M.c.f.S.&S.F., also some Planets, Amazings, etc. I'd like to donate them for the auction, if the rest of the gang aren't afraid of catching TB from them. I will send them over and have them sterilized before sending them out, so it will be perfectly safe. See what some of the others think. Actually, they are perfectly safe as is, as there isn't one chance in a billion of getting a bug from them, but it relieves a lot of minds to send them through the ultra-violet light sterilizer. Drop a line & tell me your opinion, will you?

Don't forget to send Imp to me right away, if not sooner, & tell everyone Hello for me.

As ever,

Wally

EDITORIAL GABBLING

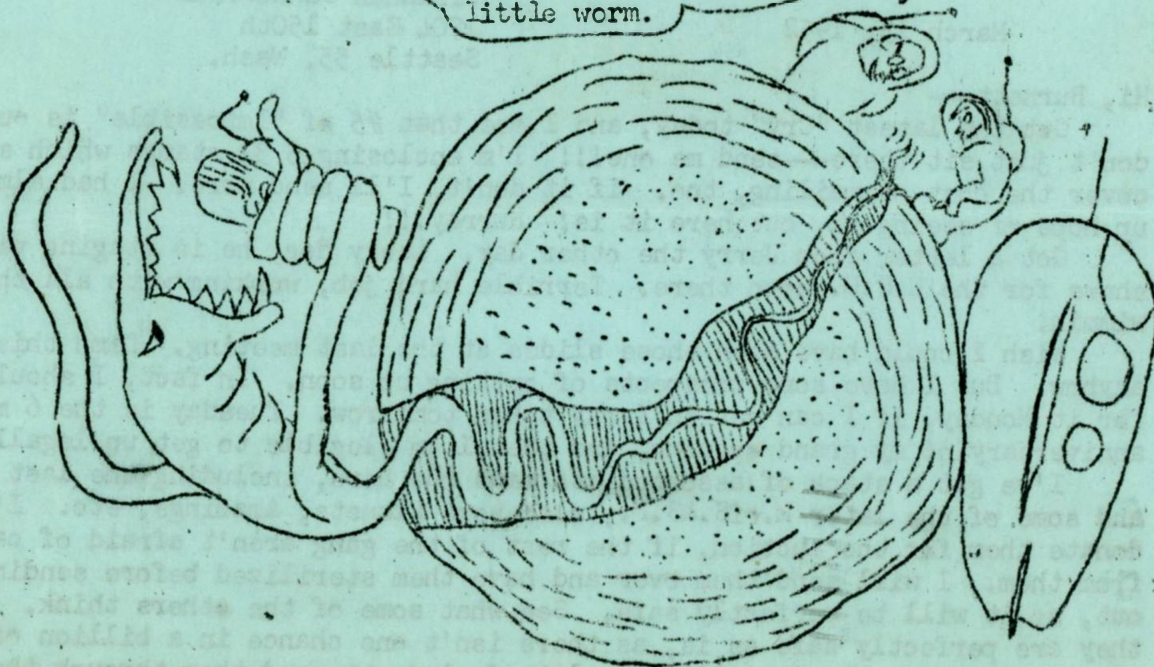

Ordinarily this empty space—or what would have been empty space—at the bottom of this page would have been filled with an L. Garcone something. Sadly enough, Garcone is vacationing with his close friend, Burnett Toskey, between school quarters, and rather than subject you to more of my own drawing I will subject you to my equally bad if not worse jabbering.

Plans for this issue of the CRY have wavered considerably before undergoing their usual destruction by practical necessity. This being the 25th issue, I thought the CRY should celebrate by coming out in a super-sized edition. Ten or twenty pages, even. As time and final examinations marched relentlessly on, however, the great plans for a monster edition was modified just a bit to a single sheet edition of the CRY. For a while I almost considered putting it out on a postcard. But now that publishing time has come there is just too much stuff to go in a single page edition, and much too little to fill a twenty paged affair. We have, as I should have guessed, the usual 4-pager. I am, however, holding out for the use of blue paper this issue. But only time will tell.

Next issue I hope to gather the ambition to put together a revised, up-to-date mailing list to include in the CRY. I hope anyone who has a gripe about his address will let me know so I can really foul it up good in the next list.

Having been re-elected, I wish to announce that my platform has not changed. I still hold to my ambitious program of inaccurate reporting, incompetence, and weak-minded decisions. I wish to publically thank the intelligent multitudes that wisely refrained from voting in anyone else.
