M E M O R A N D U M

TO: ALL MOB MEMBERS
FROM: BECKY THOMSON [73747,2622]
DATE: OCTOBER 19, 1991

As you all know, I have been on an indefinite leave of absence for some time due to health reasons. After extensive discussions with Joe Siclari, I have decided that it would be in the best interests of both myself and the convention if I were to assume the position of Vice Chairman of MagiCon rather than return to the Co-Chairmanship. This becomes effective immediately. I will continue to hold the position of Co-Chairman in FANAC.

In addition to the traditional duties expected of a vice chairman, I will be working on special projects assigned by Joe, especially ones which do not fall clearly into any particular division. I will also be continuing until further notice as the De Facto Chairman of the Publications Division, although I am seeking a strong assistant to this post who might eventually be able to take over the division.

Since Joe has already held authority as sole Chairman during my leave, and as I have continued working with him on various projects during this time, we don't anticipate any major changes in our current operating procedures. I have every confidence that this transition can take place smoothly with no negative effects on our convention.

1995 Site Selection Ballot

Voting Instructions

DRAFT

1. You must be an attending or supporting member of MagiCon to be eligible to vote for the site of the 1995 World Science Fiction Convention. You may purchase a membership with this ballot by completing the appropriate information and sending a check for the membership fee.
2. Complete the information requested on the other side of this ballot. Be sure to provide the address that you would like the winning bid to have in its files.
3. Voting is by the "single transferable ballot" system. Place a "1" beside your first choice, "2" beside your second choice, and so on. You do not have to indicate any preference beyond first. Voters who are not natural persons (for example, clubs, companies or pets for which memberships have been purchased) may vote only for "No Preference".
4. The ballot lists those bid committees that filed acceptable qualification papers by the close of the 1991 World Science Fiction Convention. Also listed are "No Preference" and "No Award", and a line is provided for write-in votes. "No Preference" is equivalent to an abstention; it does not count for or against any other choice. "No Award" is treated as a candidate; if it wins, the site of the 1995 World Science Fiction Convention will be decided at the World Science Fiction Society business meeting held at MagiCon. Write-in votes are counted as cast for candidates, but a write-in committee can win only if it files acceptable qualification papers by the close of balloting at MagiCon.
5. To help preserve the secrecy of your vote, fold your ballot in accordance with the directions on the other side of this form.
6. You must enclose the voting fee ($20.00 (U.S.), £12 sterling or the local equivalent). Make your check payable to "The 53rd World Science Fiction Convention". Do not send a check payable to MagiCon or to either of the bid committees. Payment of this fee entitles you to vote and makes you a supporting member of the 1995 Worldcon, regardless of where it is held. Ballots submitted without the proper voting fee will not be counted.
7. You may purchase an attending membership in the 1995 Worldcon with this ballot. See the "Joint Statement of the Bid Committees" below for details.

8. You may cast your ballot by mail or at MagiCon. The polls will be open at MagiCon until 6:00 p.m. on September 5, 1992. Mail-in ballots should be sent to -

Joint Statement of the Bid Committees

The Atlanta and Glasgow bid committees have agreed to the following joint statement:

Both 1995 Worldcon Bids have agreed not to raise the Site Selection voting fees above the current $20 US or £12 sterling rate. The bids have also jointly agreed that the conversion rate for those who vote will be $40 US or £25 sterling, regardless of who wins. If you convert at the time of voting and have already purchased a pre-anything from the winning bid, you will be mailed the appropriate refund by the selected 1995 Worldcon.

You may also elect not to pay the conversion fee at the time of voting. The winning bid will be available at Orlando on Sunday and Monday to handle conversions and credit you with any refunds due. The conversion rate is the same by mail for at least 90 days after the voting. Check with the winning bid for more details after that time.

After folding ballot as instructed on other side, tape or staple here.

1992 HUGO AWARDS NOMINATING BALLOT

DRAFT

Instructions

Please read these instructions carefully before casting your ballot.

This is the nominating ballot for the 1992 Science Fiction Achievement Awards (the "Hugo Awards"). These awards cover the year 1991.

Eligibility to Vote

You are eligible to cast a ballot if you either (i) were an attending or supporting member of Chicon V (the 1990 World Science Fiction Convention) or (ii) become an attending or supporting member of MagiCon (the 1991 World Science Fiction Convention) by January 31, 1992.

You may purchase a membership in MagiCon by completing the appropriate information on page 4 of this ballot and sending a check for the membership fee. If you are already a Chicon or MagiCon member, you need not send any money with your ballot. Just fill in the requested information so that we can verify your membership. Please print or type all information. What we can't read may mutate strangely.

Deadline

Ballots must be postmarked by March 31, 1992, and received by April 6, 1992, to ensure that they will be counted.

Filling in the Ballot

You may nominate up to five persons or works in each category. You may nominate fewer than five in any category and are not required (or even encouraged) to vote in every category. The order in which you list your nominations has no effect on the outcome. Some categories ask for "source" (e. g., the magazine or anthology in which a story appeared). Including the source is not mandatory but makes it easier for us to identify the work for which you intend to vote.

Don't bother to nominate "No Award" (unless you want to vote for a story with that title). "No Award" automatically appears as a choice in every category on the final ballot.

The five top vote getters in each category (more in case of ties, fewer if not many nominating ballots are cast in that category) will appear on the final Hugo Awards ballot, which will be distributed with MagiCon Progress Report No. 6 (scheduled for publication in May 1992). Only members of MagiCon (including those who join after January 31, 1992) will be eligible to vote on the final ballot.

Year of Eligibility

- Books are considered to have been published on the "publication date" indicated by the publisher. This date usually appears with the copyright information on the back of the title page. If there is no stated publication date, the copyright date will be used instead.
- A dated periodical is considered to have been published on the cover date, regardless of when it really was placed on sale.
- Serialized stories or dramatic presentations are eligible in the year in which the last installment appears.
- A work that first appeared in a language other than English is eligible in both the year of its original appearance and in the year in which it first appears in English translation.

Further Information

The rules governing the Hugo Awards are set forth in Article II of the Constitution of the World Science Fiction Society, which is reprinted in MagiCon Progress Report No. 4. Copies of the WSFS Constitution and Standing Rules may be obtained by sending a written request to:

Some Thoughts in General about ConFederation - or Why Did I Do This?!

Susan Carson Isaacs

These are some observations that were made by me at ConFederation. I came down to do some work in Program Operations, which turned out to be a little bit more than I expected. This was mostly because they were understaffed (Joe Siclari was unable to make it), and I ended up as a Committee member. I was not very involved with precon stuff.

As far as parties go, we should remember that serving alcoholic beverages is not necessarily the best of ideas. Sober people are much nicer, as well as less nauseating. Besides, if we're not careful, we could get in trouble over this. Keep this type of thing to a minimum.

While we're on the subject of parties, I noticed alot of people worked very hard at the MCFI suite, but I don't remember who. Pam Fremon, Gay Ellen Dennett, and Laurie Mann are three that do spring to mind. Sue Hammond and I spent numerous hours running around in costume, getting people to come up to visit. One word of caution: If one has eaten chocolate and wishes to hug an unsuspecting victim, it is unfair to not tell this person before getting handprints all over their nice clothes. Think people! This is one reason people leave their really nice clothes at home. I'll start after this convention to do the same.

A snake is a weapon.

The Atlanta Committee was disorganized, didn't have enough redundancy as far as equipment goes, and didn't check enough backup outside services. They neither took nor asked for outside advice, though it would have been willingly given. This may not have been intentional on their part, but I did notice it seemed to be quite a prevalent attitude.

As I was quite busy during the Convention, running back and forth between hotels, I had the opportunity of seeing those people who worked in certain places at certain times. Dale Farmer was everywhere, doing good deeds for everyone in general. Every time I walked by the conversion table, I noticed Pam Fremon working her fingers to the bone. I saw Sharon there most of the time, too. Debbie King was also quite a visible worker.

For the most part, the committee's collective heart was in the right place, but when one member's wasn't, it made things rough. What bothered me the most about this convention was that there were so many bent and dented hearts near the end. We don't need too many of this kind of walking wounded. Many things can be forgiven, and a lousy con, with good people is one of them.

Fandom has such a large pool of people willing to work on conventions anywhere, that a convention never has to staff only from its local area - and I don't just mean Boston fans, either.

Flakes aren't helpful at cons. If you're going to flake out, say so, and go ahead. There is usually someone willing to cover for you for a short time.

Make sure that all track and program managers realize they need room managers for each program item. When handicapped access necessitates moving furniture around, or sitting in specific locations, it should be made as easy and pleasant as possible for the person requesting the special arrangement. Room managers must be aware of this.

People should be told to take showers and rest, when they seem to have forgotten about these things for more than 3 or 4 days. People should not use the swimming pool as a bath! (Nor the jacuzzi, for that matter, it ends up being like leper stew).

There should be some sort of policy, one that's enforceable, about people who do rotten things while drunk, or otherwise influenced, like forcing their attentions on unwilling recipients. It might be a warning the first time, and being thrown out the second. Of course, if they do something really heinous, they should be disposed of in a dishonorable manner, say, by having their faces licked raw by a very passionate goat.

Blood Drives are a nice idea ... but, they are most likely to be attended by committee members - those who can least afford to give. Giving should be limited to people who are really just attendees, or not really working. This gives them alot of egoboo, sympathy, and they feel like they really did participate heavily. We don't need any dead or comatose bodies in positions of responsibility.

Rule to live by: When leaving a room, don't depend on someone else to make sure it's secure if it needs to be. Especially if you're supposed to be the last one out.

Hello, my name is Michael Nelson. You killed my mouse. Prepare to read my fannish history.

TR has asked me to be in charge of Logistics for Magicon. Since my contact with fandom has primarily been at Northeastern cons with very little Worldcon work experience, I thought it would be a good idea to introduce myself.

I live in Annandale, Virginia and I'm a chemist at the Bureau of Engraving & Printing (We make money the old fashioned way). I'm 38 and divorced. I live near my three kids and may bring my son George, who will 17 at that time, to Magicon. I'm very quiet, mostly harmless, and it takes me a while to make friends so don't get discouraged.

Sometime in my childhood in the wilds of Massachusetts, I had learned that reading books from a certain section of the town library brought me pleasure. But prior to Noreascon II in 1980, science fiction had been a solitary vice for me. There, I discovered fandom and also managed to get my first volunteer experience recorded in the Noreascon II Memory Book.

I had arrived at the con on Thursday night and foolishly asked, "Do you need any help ?" I recall being herded through many back rooms and service areas where strange looking people, dressed in t-shirts bearing numerous buttons, performed arcane tasks. At one point we passed through a dimly-lit room where Kermit, Miss Piggy and other Muppets stared at us from a dark corner (Ever notice how their eyes follow you across a room, especially that frog with those weird eyes ?).

We finally arrived at a loading dock somewhere in the lower regions of the building. There we were greeted by two gorillas in trucker's clothing, who were unloading a large fancy electric organ from a truck. They deposited it into our keeping with the warning, "It's brand new, don't scratch it." This organ would be used Sunday night to provide the music for a silent movie. It took six of us to carry that thing to the storage area since it was going where no fork lift truck had ever gone before. So I guess I could say that large organ got me where I am today in fandom... but I won't.

Aside from the usual door guard, et cetera volunteer stuff, I ran the consuite for URCon III and I ran the art show and slept with the chairperson (I was married to her at the time) for URCon IV at the University of Rochester. I ran registration for Esotericon (Witches, pagans and New Agers, Oh My !) for several years. I was the assistant manager of volunteer staffing at last year's Philcon and will be so again this year. And for Lunacon, I have run Logistics and I was co-manager of the Green Room for this year and will be so again next year. As far as Worldcons are concerned, the most I have done has been to create one of the five party rooms (the Map Room) for the "Boxboro Fandom presents Louis Wu's 200th Birthday Extravaganza" at Noreascon III.

I must make one thing clear. Running Logistics for Lunacon consisted of renting the truck on Thursday, picking up the con stuff from the storeroom in Manhattan and trucking it to the hotel in Westchester and then reversing the process on Sunday night (Let me tell you about the former New York City bus driver I got to drive the truck... as long as you don't tell any of the Lunerians).

So I'm begging everyone who will be needing anything from Logistics for Magicon to please talk to me. I don't know most of you, I am not a mind reader, and I don't have the experience to guess what you will need. Talk to Theresa Renner or myself (I know who to pass the "buck" to, I work for the Government! Or as we say at the BEP, "The buck starts here.") if you have questions about who has responsibility for any of the needs of your division.

My home phone number is (703) 750-3832. Try to call between 5 PM & 10 PM since I've got to get up at 5:30 AM. I share the phone and answering machine with two house mates so be patient and leave clear messages. If necessary, you can call me at work at (202) 447-0828 from 7:30 AM to 3:30 PM. I have no computer (and I must scream), so send Compuserve stuff to TR, who lives in the next town over from me.

MAGICON CON (HOSPITALITY) SUITE

To my knowledge, the Consuite location has not yet been determined. I have two plans of operation.

If the Consuite is located in a function area of a hotel, I would like the room to have as warm an atmosphere as possible. I have a drawing which gives an idea of how I would place furniture in the room for conversation pits. It would be nice to have plenty of lamps available in the room placed on end tables near the sofas. Potted plants would give an additional feeling of comfort.

I would like to have one area of the room set up as a reading section, with shelves of donated books, possibly some library discards. By having donated books a member could take the book with them to finish reading and hopefully return it or another book.

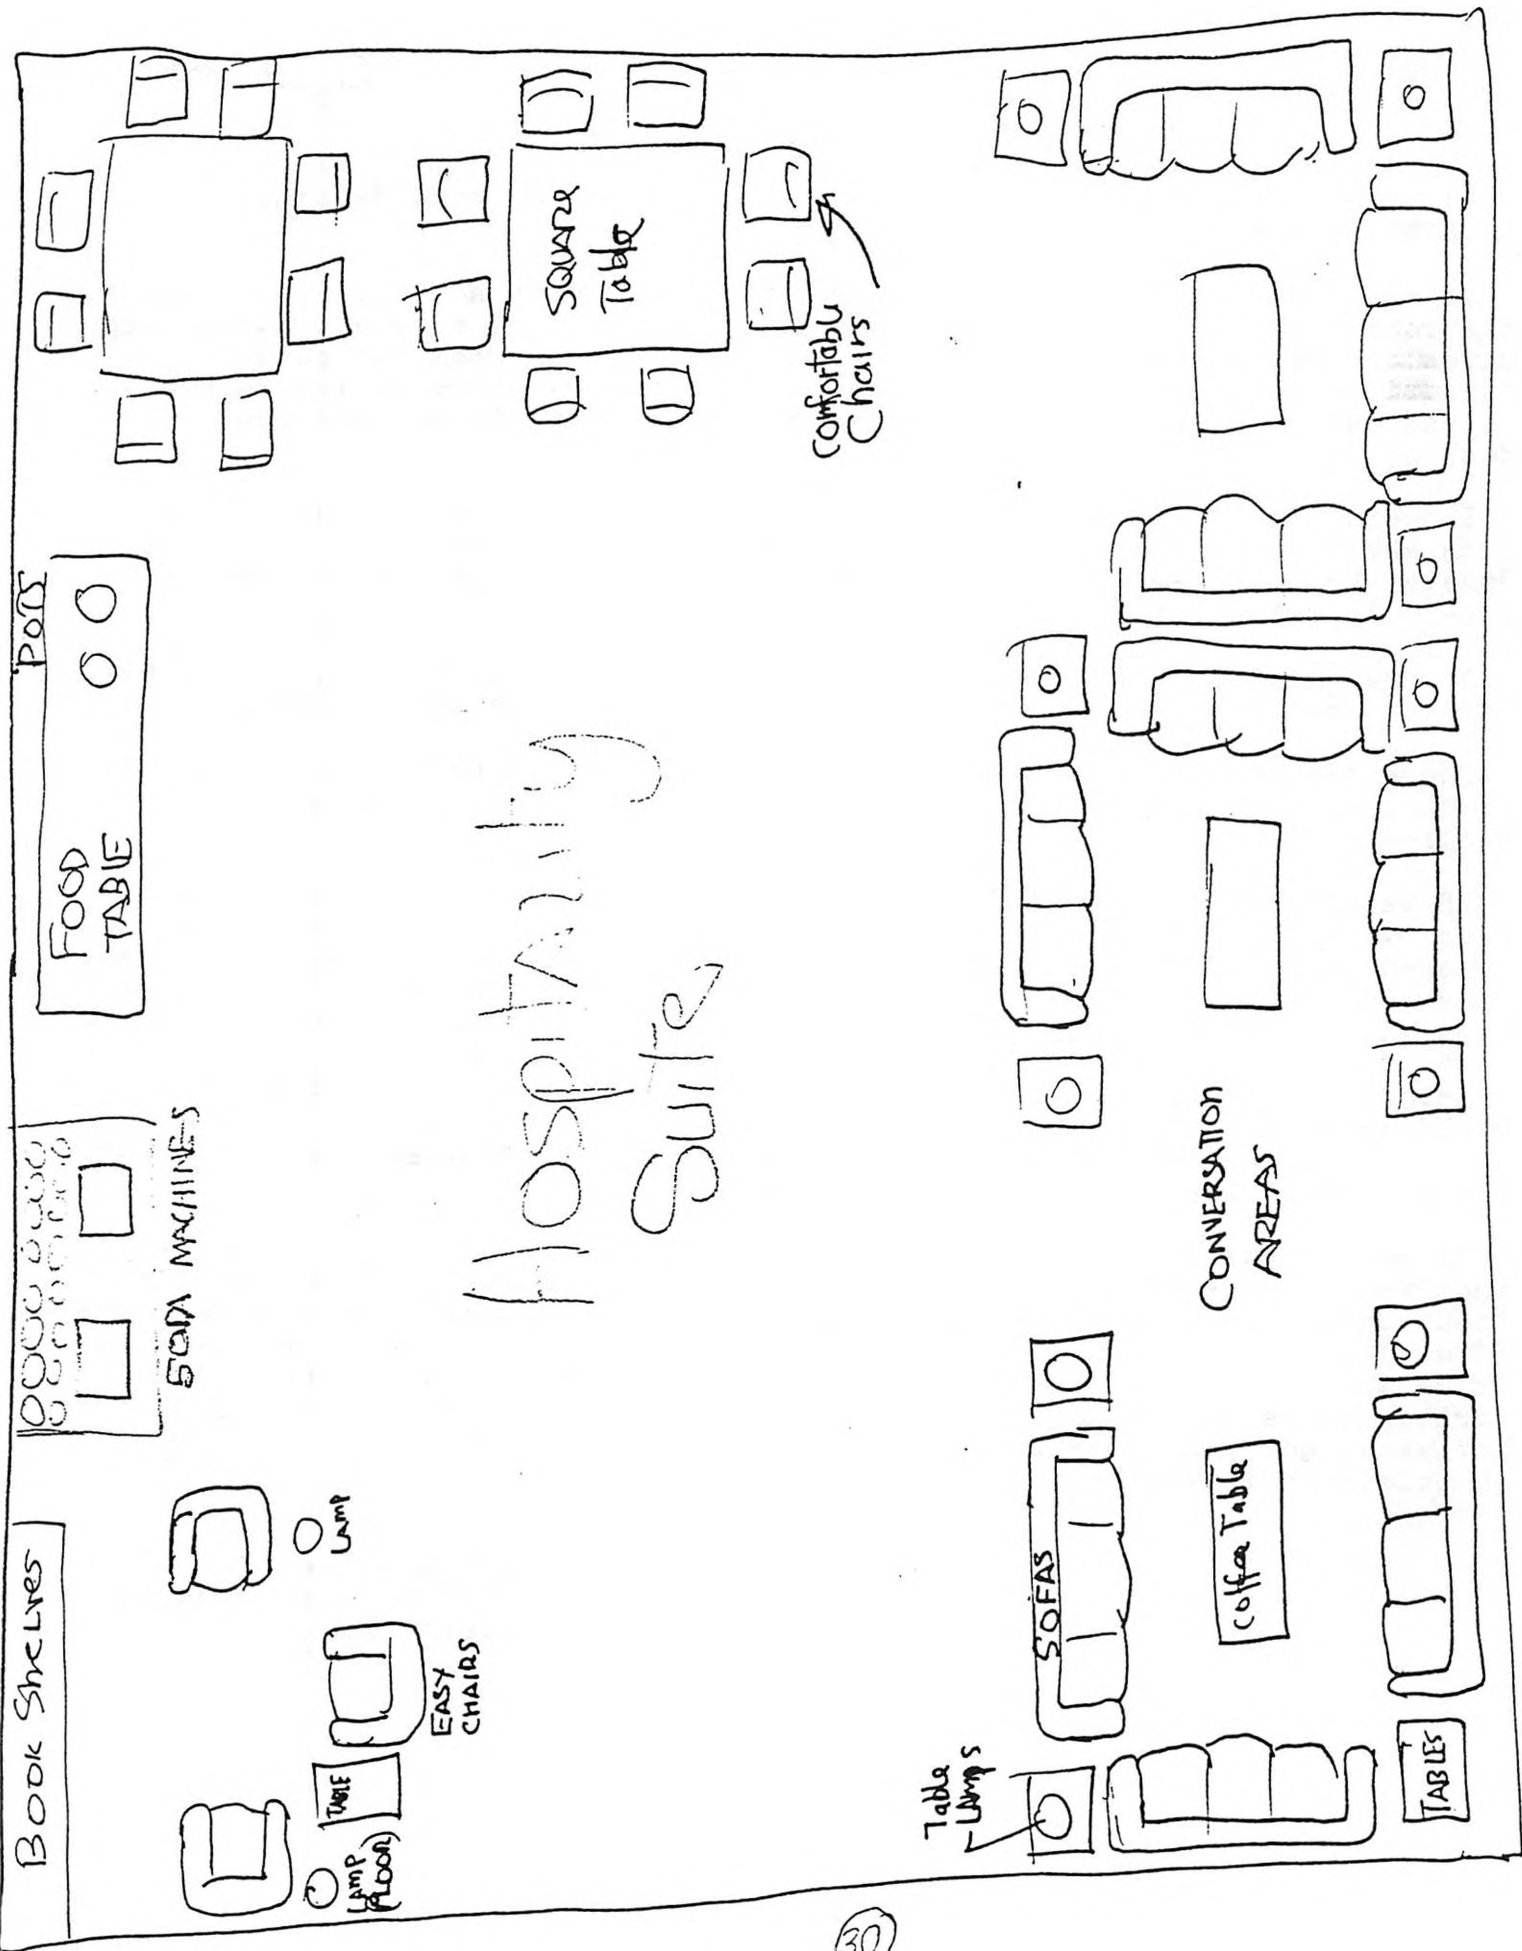

An area with several zigsaw puzzles might be set up so people could work on them over the weekend when they have a few minutes for relaxation.

These are just a few ideas of what I would like to have in the room. If smoking is to be permitted, there would need to be two rooms available for smoking and non-smoking areas.

If we will be serving food, and if we have the consuite in a function room, we will need to try to get that room exempted from having to be catered entirely by the hotel. Some hotels will allow this so it will save wear and tear on the elevators if the con suite is located in a function room on a lower level. I would like to have sodas to serve. It would be best if we could use the machines with the tanks. If we have the refrigerated units, it would cut down greatly on the amount of ice that we would need. I would like to have plenty of munchies to serve, such as pretzels, potato chips, tortilla chips, fritos, fresh vegetables, cookies and whatever else the budget will allow.

If we use suites in the hotel, we will need at least 2 very large ones so that we can have one for smoking and one for non-smoking. I have noticed that non-smoking rooms are beginning to be more popular than smoking rooms. If we are allowed to use only one room, I would like it to be non-smoking. If we are in a suite, then we could possibly have some hot snacks at various times of the day. I would like to keep a coffee pot and a pot of hot water going all day for fans to have a cup of coffee, tea, or hot chocolate if they wish.

Shameless Self-Promotion

Laurie Mann * 12 Shady Lane Ave * Northboro, MA 01532-1729 * 508-393-9492
lmann@jjmhome * lmann@vineland.pubs.stratus.com * L.MANN4

This is the first in an occasional zine for the MagiCon committee APA. I hope no one is offended by the title, because it pretty accurately expresses what the Publicity division in general and the Press Relations area in particular is doing for MagiCon. Despite my tendency to be an "ain't it awful?" sort around incompetently run conventions, I think fandom is really neat, and deserves all kinds of reasonable press attention. We should be engaged in as much positive "self-promotion," (the "self" here being MagiCon and fandom) as we can without being obnoxious about it. Next summer, we'll be running one of the largest, most complicated cons ever attempted by an all-volunteer organization. We're going to be in some terrific hotels, a large convention center, we're going to have great guests, innovative program, a breath-taking art show and...well, I guess you get my drift. We have lots of reasons to push MagiCon, so let's go!

Press Relations at Chicon

Like most of the rest of Chicon, there were major problems with it. There only seemed to be two or three people attached to Press Relations, they had only a three page press kit, they had no photographs of the GoHs (a luxury, true, but two local papers supplemented their coverage of Chicon by publishing a 20+-year-old picture of Gordon R. Dickson, and I'm not sure he was even there!)

Additionally, the press coverage, except for the article on the Hugos, looked mediocre. A local cable station spent almost 5 excruciating minutes talking to people dressed in chain mail and fur bikinis, treating them like "typical fans."

A big part of press relations is selling SF cons to the mundane media, and educating the mundane press that SF fans are more than costumers in fur bikinis. The other side of press relations is providing fast, accurate information to the fan press about what has been happening at the con.

I have a very experienced staff. I've worked on Press Relations for several Worldcons. My assistant, Richard Brandt, ran it at Noreascon, and co-ran the daily newsletter at a Worldcon and a NASFiC. Chris Barkley has also assisted Press Relations at several Worldcons. Maia Cowan hasn't worked in this area before, but writes well and knows fandom. Ray has recruited a number of Floridians who will add greatly to the team. The local press relations folks also have an advantage we out-of-towners don't have, since they've had exposure to the local media.

Get Out the Hugo Vote

Yep, I know it's still 1991, but now is the time to start the "Get Out the Vote" campaign. I don't know who is "formally" in charge of this effort, and I don't know if there is a "party line" or not. But there's stuff all of us could be doing. For example:

sending letters/articles to the prozines about the Hugos, to see if they will print information on voting procedures now. This it may be too late to get thing information in before the nominations, it isn't too late to get it in before the final voting. (and I'm sorry I didn't think of this idea until today!)

having a detailed article in PR 5 about why people should read, nominate, and vote. Maybe including some voting stats from the last few years might help motivate people.

creating some sort of incentive for voting. Maybe a spiffy "Hugo Voter" ribbon or button, to be given out at MagiCon? Listing all voters in the Hugo Program?

If PR 5 is at all delayed, Ray and I plan to blanket all the major fanzines and clubs with Hugo nominating ballots in early December, with the encouragement to reproduce and distribute them. We also want to encourage folks running cons early next winter to include a panel about Hugo voting.

I know everyone reading this APA is going to be extra-busy over the next year, but try to take a few hours here and there and read some of the fiction and zines that have come out this year. We need to better educate ourselves, too. We should set a good example.

Info Sharing at the Con

I don't know what types of computers MagiCon will have at the con, and I have almost no interest in debating the types of machines that will be there. I only care that they will exist and that information may somehow be shared between them. I don't think this necessarily implies a LAN between the machines at the con. But it does imply that there be some compatibility.

I don't think Press Relations will need a PC or Mac at the con. However, I hope we will have access to one, either one of the daily newsletter machines, or the convention office machine.

One thing I'd really like to do is to download breaking news onto the major networks from the con. I have a modem, and I have accounts on USENET and GENIE. I'm sure the CompuServe folks could do some downloading too. I don't advocate downloading everything (I mean, will folks hundreds of miles away really care to see all those program changes, and all the party lists?) But it took Chicon nearly a week to post the Hugo winners, and no one has yet distributed the big list of the Hugo statistics. Creating an ASCII version of the daily newsletters should be a fairly trivial task, and one that would help increase awareness of the Worldcon while it happens.

Several long lists of awards are given out at the con. These awards include the Hugos, Masquerade, and Art Show winners. Between now and early next summer, we'd (me from Press Relations, and Fred Duarte from the Newsletter) need to work with the folks from these areas, to determine how to publish these lists at the con. At Noreascon, the Hugo Administrator took charge of the official Hugo list (with all the voting statistics), and distributed the list at the post-Hugo press conference. I think that worked very well. We had accurate, timely information, yet only one person saw the list before the awards were given out. I believe the newsletter people simply reproduced George's list for the newsletter, rather than re-keying the whole thing in. I hope this type of system is used at Magi-Con, and for the Masquerade, and Art Show awards, too. I hope Program and Newsletter can work out how to distribute Program changes well in advance of next summer.

I'm highly opposed to duplication of effort for the sake of duplication of effort. In an ideal situation, we'll only put the information on-line once, and get the results in a usable format for other areas to do with what they will.

The 50th Worldcon!

MagiCon is looking forward to celebrating the history and future of Science Fiction, as both an art form and as an influence on its fans. Although we have not yet set specific panels, we are considering offering showcases within the Worldcon, bringing together at one time and place events and panels with a concentrated focus on particular themes, so that fans and pros can more readily find people and programming to suit their interests.

The City Beautiful. Orlando is located in the central part of the state and has an international airport that has regular service to over 100 cities. The Worldcon site is just 10 minutes west of the Airport by taxi, shuttle, or rental car. Disney World/EPCOT Center/Disney MGM Studios are another 15 minutes southwest of the MagiCon site. Universal Studios is less than three miles away. The Kennedy Space Center is less than an hour's drive to the east. There are over 100 restaurants nearby.

Additional Venue Information. In addition to the accommodations at our world-class head-quarters hotel, The Peabody (830 rooms), we also have significant blocks at the mid-range Clarion Plaza (750 rooms), and the budget-minded Quality Inn Plaza (450 rooms). The Peabody is located literally across the street from the Convention Center. The Clarion Plaza, which opened in September, 1991, is on the north border of the Center.

Additional Membership Information. An Attending Membership gives you attendance privileges, copies of generally distributed publications such as our progress reports and program book, the right to nominate and vote for the 1992 Hugo Awards (for works published in 1991), and the right to vote for the site selection for the 1995 Worldcon (after the payment of a poll tax which is credited towards your 1995 membership). A Supporting Membership gives you all of the above with the exception of the right to actually attend MagiCon.

Children's membership is available for youngsters born after September 3, 1980. A child's membership entitles the bearer to attend our children's programming, and to take advantage of child care at the best rates we can provide. A child with a full Attending Membership has the same rights as an adult member.

Kids-In-Tow membership is free for children born after September 3, 1986. They must be accompanied by an adult and are not allowed in Children's programming. For an additional fee, they may be allowed in Child Care.
