

Leigh Edmonds scored a convincing victory in the Poll, despite close competition from John Foyster, Bruce Gillespie, Noel Kerr, Bob Smith and Paul Stevens for most of the way. Eleven members voted - not a great number - and they included only two*members outside Melbourne. This makes me wonder whether interstate members do not favour the Poll, or whether they just forgot to vote. It's something that should be discussed, but I'll reserve my own comments for another occasion. (*Sorry - three. Out of corflu.)
