

Bewitched, bothered, and bewildered, bedraggled, beaten, and bloody, comes to you nonetheless De Profundis #126, edited by David K. M. Klaus, Intermix Chamber, No. 38-1/2, Diamond Street, Arcadia, California, 91006, (213) 445-9555, for the Los Angeles Science Fantasy Society, Inc., 11513 Burbank Boulevard, North Hollywood, California, 91601, (213) 760-9234. Alternative Realities Press publication #39. Minneapolis in '73! L. A. in '84! L-5 in '95!

The LASFS is a not-for-profit, tax-exempt (tell that to the county assessor), literary and educational (!) organization which meets weekly at its clubhouse, the second address above. De Prof. is published monthly for Active Members and Patron Friends of the LASFS and is also available in trade for other fanzines. Subscriptions are available at the rate of $5 for 12 issues, should you feel this to be a publication without which you simply cannot do.

I have received one response to my editorial last issue: Alan Prince Winston said, "David, you were wrong. Our club newsletter is not to be used to attempt to pry us from our provincialism, should we wish to be provincial; that is not its purpose." Has no one else any comment?

I do have one inadvertantly related item:

Dear Dave,

Thanks muchly for De Profundis #124. Fascinating reading, seeing just how rich the fannish lifestyle can be in an area populated with a sufficient density of fans. It contrasts strongly with the fannish lifestyle in this country, even in the capital cities where there are enough fans to enable one to socialise only with fans if one so desires. Needless to say, things are even more different out in the Bush, where the nearest fan is several hundred kilometres away.

Thanks also for the CoAs. These could well be useful next time I am looking for ~~fifths~~ readers of my zine.

All the best,
/s/ Richard

Daniel Deckert and Danise Cook were married recently; they will be throwing an open party/non-reception on Saturday, April 11 at the LASFS clubhouse to celebrate. Danise is taking Daniel's surname; they will quite literally be Mr. & Mrs. Dan Deckert.

Virginia Bauer and William Tapia were also recently married.

Congratulations to both couples.

LASTS Meeting #2273--March 5th, 1981

The minutes of the previous meeting, a copy of which I cannot find to condense here, were approved as read. Charles Curley wanted it noted that he'd nominated Kees van Toorn for the Best Professional Editor Hugo. There's no chance that that'll appear here. This was St. David's night; Dave Fox was cheered thrice. Craig Miller and Alan Winston moved to declare the radio tower to be the Official LASTS Standpipe. This passed. Bruce Pelz moved that no further motions about the tower or anything on it be accepted for five years. This passed, since many members were under the impression that the tower was now the standpipe and motions could still be made about the standpipe. In fact, the standpipe is on the tower, and cannot be moved about. Jumper started to read another motion and Adams Douglas interrupted to note that the tower had donated 50¢.

Meeting #2274--March 12th, 1981

Mike Glycer and Bill Welden moved "to raise $750 to hire a better class of president--to start with, Rita Jenrette." Craig Miller wanted to know whether the president should start with Rita Jenrette, or what? There was much discussion. The motion was eventually tabled till the 3000th meeting, about six months from now. The other major announcement was that George Jumper had received a football scholarship from Miskatonic University.

Meeting #2275--March 19th, 1981

Larry Niven announced that The Ringworld Engineers was #5 on the B. Dalton's bestseller list, and that Ringworld was #39. He gave away champagne to celebrate. Adams Douglas read an announcement from Lee Gold, that her husband Barry had had a heart attack. The meeting closed as the Earth-I David Friedman reviewed a work of juvenile sf--the environmental impact report on the MX missile. Sort of in the vein, he said, of Tom Swift and His Electric MIRV.

I just noticed that I made a mistake in my condensation of the minutes for meeting #2274 on page 2. No, meeting #3000 will not be in six months, either. I'd just have conflued the mistake out, but page 2 has already gone to my printer. Oh, well, you don't expect me to both type and subtract well at 4 a. m., do you?

LASFS President George Jumper is gathering material to eventually edit a fifty-year history of the LASFS, to be published on its 50th Anniversary in 1984. Anyone interested in helping with this project should write to George c/o the LASFS.

Please note that there will be a printing and collating party for De Profundis #127 at the Second Saturday Open House at the LASFS clubhouse on May 9th. The deadline of April 30th is firm.

Special thanks are due to my long-suffering printer for these past three issues of De Prof., Sharon Bohner, Assistant Publisher. Also, public kudos are deserved by Elayne Pelz, who, as LASFS Treasurer, keeps the financial records which determine who is entitled to receive De Prof., and by Cheryl Chapman, who prints the computer mailing labels each month. Thank you, all three of you.
