

DEGLER! 120

doompub 185: 4/6/66

Degler! is published for apa L by good old Deadwood Andy Porter, 24 East 82nd Street, NY, NY, 10028 on the mighty & show-thru-less Doom Duplicator. Goshwow.

Once more we present to you, the dirty pros of tomorrow this fine August fanzine named Degler!, in the great tradition of deadwood minacing. This is a special what the hell is so special about Degler! issue. What the Hell, as they say.

.....
CUTTING DOWN THE DEADWOOD ALONG THE APALACHIAN TRAIL: COMMENTS ON APA L NUMBER 76
.....

Cover: Dian: A strange and wonderful thing, that. I'm not so sure I like it, but a strange and wonderful thing, no doubt...

Ab Bad: Freddy Fatten: Man, I is wheeling-dealing left and right here; I is also going straight out of my mind. Which way to the gravy-train, gang?... I knew that the time zone was different out there, but Saturday the 14th? Alternate Universeseses, perhaps?=/For a comics fan, you don't know much about what's going on in the comics. Ditko has left Marvel primarily because he objected to the amount of dialogue that Stan Lee was putting in the panels.... Jack Gaughan, Wally Wood and Dan Adkins are working on a comic book, professionally. Jack has done some fantastic stuff in a comics manor, like Lord of The Pot (starring Dave Van Arnam, among others) and a silent and fantastic gas-out-of-your-mind comic called Garbage:an (no relation to Dwaino) which are Really Good, as we say in Cal Demmon fandom. (I get my info from John Denson, Ted White, Jack Gaughan and Roy Thomas).

Fourri /L1: Fred Whitledge: I would feel moved to comment that something is fishy, but for the fact that I'm sorta tires. But there is something fishy about all that expense that the govt. is taking on itself.

Super-Nebbish: Who Else?: Super-Nebbish does NOT master all the powers of Madison Avenue. I live overlooking madison, and work on Madison, and Bighod Super-Nebbish (aka Dwaino) does not command me! Bighod no, indeedy! Maybe he commands all the powers of Third Avenue (altho come to think of it, Ditto, Inc. is located on third ave...) where all the Advertising Agencies have moved because all the new office buildings are going up along third. (Or maybe Sixth ((aka Avenue of the Americas)); Ace books is on 6th Ave...).

~~~~~

And Bi golly that's been inspired mailing comments for this Degler!. Gosh, I sure am going downhill, and in a big hurry, too. But Algol is being run off (all 76 pages of it) and this minac will have to do for now. And a day after you read this there's the EasterCon/Lunacon, two days of Ike Asimov, fun, frolic, faanishness, and all like that to go to.

Felice: I understand Ed is looking for a stapler for Niekas now that he can't use the one at LRL. Two days ago I bought a Swingline No. 13 (Price: \$11.88) which staples up to 40 sheets with the  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch staple, 80 sheets with the  $\frac{3}{8}$  inch staple, and 120 sheets with the  $\frac{1}{2}$  inch staple. I suspect the intermediate size is what Fred Fatten uses for apa L; I've bolstered some of my mailings, and the staple seems the same size. It was expensive, but now I can rent it out to fandom, or something...

Okay, gang, keep your knees loose, and have a liappy Chamukah, or Christmas, or whatever.

- Andy Porter