THE CONSTITUTION OF ANZAPA

1. The Australian and New Zealand Amateur Publishing Association (ANZAPA) is an association of people whose common interest is amateur journalism. Its purpose is to facilitate communication between its members through a bi-monthly exchange of publications.
2. Membership Membership is limited to thirty persons or couples. On joining, a member shall be required to pay a pro rata membership fee and contribute to the following mailing. If there are no vacancies, applicants for membership will be placed on a waiting list.
3. Activity To retain membership a member must contribute a minimum of six quarto pages of self-written material every six months. Contributions must be supplied to the Official Bloody Editor in editions of thirty-five substantially identical copies.

... A publication apparently intended to circulate widely outside ANZAPA in addition to ANZAPA will not be counted towards a member's minimum activity requirements, unless it bears conspicuously on its cover or front page the words "First published in ANZAPA" or words to similar effect and the name and address of the member on whose behalf credit is sought.

4. Mailings Mailing dates shall be the tenth of the months of February, April, June, August, October, and December. Mailing deadlines may be announced by the Official Bloody Editor. With each mailing, the Official Bloody Editor shall publish an official organ, including a list of the contents, a membership roster and a financial statement. Material which violates postal regulations shall not be included. The Official Bloody Editor shall publish this Constitution in the official organ at least once each year.
5. Fees Members are required to pay an annual fee of $7.00 on or before the first of August.
6. Officers of the Association A President shall be elected annually by means of a popularity poll (called "Anzapopoll"). His* duties shall be to organize the following poll and to "Encourager les autres".

An Official Bloody Editor shall be elected (or re-elected) annually. He* shall be an Australian resident. His* duties shall include distributing the mailings, publishing the official organ and controlling the Association's finances. Other duties may be undertaken at his* discretion.

An Emergency Officer may be appointed by the Official Bloody Editor to perform any of the Official Bloody Editor's duties.

7. Elections The ballot for the election of the Official Bloody Editor, containing the names of all those who have been nominated for the office, shall be distributed with the February mailing. The closing date shall be the 10th of March or twenty-eight days after the February mailing has been distributed. The counting of votes shall be conducted by a member not standing for office. Election shall be by a simple majority. The result shall be announced in the April official organ and the incoming Official Bloody Editor shall assume duties with the June mailing.

The Anzapopoll shall be conducted by the President in conjunction with the August mailing. The incoming President shall assume office with the October mailing.

8. Amendments Proposed amendments to the Constitution shall be submitted in writing to the Official Bloody Editor, bearing the signatures of three members. These amendments shall be set out in the official organ for the mailing immediately following their reception by the Official Bloody Editor. With the second mailing following their reception, the Official Bloody Editor shall distribute a ballot. The closing date for the return of ballots shall be twenty-eight days after the mailing has been distributed. Any amendment receiving a positive vote from a majority of members shall be passed.

9. Special Rules Special rules may be adopted at any time, provided a majority of voters endorses a copy of the proposed rule within twenty-eight days of its distribution. Such a proposal must be distributed to the entire membership at substantially the same time. Any member other than the proposer(s) may be nominated to count votes.

*The asterisked words in the above constitution indicate gender where this is not necessary: unless there is uproar from the membership, I propose to de-sex the constitution as a matter of housekeeping. Speak now or forever, etc.

THE OBE RULES, OK?

1. When in doubt, do what the OBE says and argue afterwards; remember Carey Handfield?
2. There have been some adjustments in pages due amongst members: Mason used to grant extensions, but count the contributions as having been made at the due, not the extended date. In the April OBO he wrote (page 6) 'When pages later than that are due must depend on when those six are actually submitted.'. The pages must be counted either when they are due or when they are actually submitted, and the previous OBE's most recent decision was that pages should be counted from date of actual submission. I rule that this should be applied universally.
3. Berry and L Smith failed to contribute; nothing in the constitution actually spells out a mechanism whereby invitees may be uninvited, but I shall ad hoc one from here on in. A temporary measure has been adopted.
4. The special rules have been deleted. Sections 8 and 9 of the constitution both provide mechanisms whereby the rules of the organization may be changed. The conditions for special rules are weaker and take faster effect. I rule that 'Special Rules' are temporary measures which can have effect only until an appropriate amendment could have been considered; where such an amendment is not made in the proper manner in the required time it must lapse.

Consequently there must be ballots for voting, the OBE cannot levy, and waitlists need not acknowledge or pay $1 - until or when either special rules (temporary) or amendments are passed.

5. Don't try to play funny buggers with minac - you'll be out on your arse and in a terrible position to argue about whether your contribution was self-written or not.
6. And a bit of late news. Leanne Frahm has reported that she's getting back to normal and expects to make some apa contributions soon. (Better hurry, my dear, you owe a page to ANZAPA in August...)
