

ITS STILL A LONG HARD WINTER.....

Lynna Hickman 413 Ottokee Street Wauseon, Ohio 43567

For the Southern Fandom Press Alliance. April 10, 1982

*****

On April 6th we got 10" more of snow. Last night wasn't as bad, only 8". However, it is supposed to get into the 50s or even the 60s next week. Lets cross our fingers or something.

The last mailing was another whopper. It is doubtful that I will get any commenting done as the next few weeks are really filled. April 19th I'm going to BCSU to hear a talk by Ray Bradbury, the next three nights I'll be in Fostoria, Ohio to play in the 3-ball tourney and then the following week I'll be three nights playing in the 9-ball tourney.

Mich-i-con 9 will be held June 4-5-6, 1982.. It has been quite a while since the last Mich-i-con 9 was held, so Roger Sims decided it was time for another one. He had several reasons for this.

1. The date selected for this year's con is the same weekend as the Hickmans 30th anniversary.

2. Lynn and Roger will celebrate birthdays during the weekend.

And there were a bunch of others also, but I won't bore you with them. But the main reason was -- Roger wanted one.

The place is the same as last ~~year's~~ time's Mich-i-con 9: Holiday Inn Perrysburg French Quarter. Address for which is:

10630 Fremont Pike
Perrysburg, Ohio
43551

(419) 874-3111

Single is $45.00
Double is $51.00

The rate is for the Cabana rooms which are located on three floors overlooking the French Quarter. The French Quarter is the heart of the Inn where all "legal" activities take place. Such as pool, drinking, eating, putting, and etc. We should have a good time, and of course we will have a BIG birthday.
