

Clubulletin of Los Angeles Science Fantasy Society, Chapt. #1 Science Fictioneers, Chapt. #4 SF League, and affiliated with Weird T's Club. Address for Exchanges: 1055 Wilshire Blvd., #4, Los Angeles, Calif.

TO THE RIGHT, our much-publicized 1000-piece Library. Fuller now by some 80 odd stf pros, due to a generous donation by Dave Fox of Pasadena, who gave us his collection of Astounding, beginning with Clayton #1, and a number of WTs. For the firsttime, with our library located in our own club room, business is booming in the matter of making use of the mags. Finn, Johnson and Rhodes in particular borrowing heavily.

THE LASFS HAS held 217 meetings as we go to press, and our dues-paying roster, as of the last meeting (Feb. 26) was 21.

THE OFFICIAL EDITOR of this, our Club Organ, has been so overly-occupied with fantasy field matters, of late, that, rather than bring this Feb. ish. out late, it has been combined with the Mar. number, which you get early, in consequence! That's some logic for you. Anyway, dyktawo?

BAD NEWS FOR youse publishers who haven't traded with us. Two warnings have been given; third time, and you're out! Only Tucker, Widner and Bronson have come thru on exchanges, with their respective Le Zombie, Fanfare and Fantasite. Gentlemen, we thank you. But unless at least 75% of the rest of you kick thru with a copy of your fm for our farmag files...SHANGRI-L'AFFAIRES goes the weigh of all flesh. Shirkers, arise! And remember, freaks: Fore-warned is four armed!

NOOSE NOTES, or, Hang It All: Astonishing will give a Finlay cover to Kuttner's novelet, "The Crystal Circo"; wife Catherine is working on a modern witchcraftale. ...Shroyer is reported to have volunteered and now be in air service somewhere in the northern part of the state...Joquel sells stf collection (large) practically en toto to Helen Finn, publishes 20-page free-to-friends Fanfile and a second selection of Fywert Kingo...Daugherty winning cups again, dancing; La-or going in too for pro-dancing...Next Vom will have a cover by Finlay...Freehafer favoring good music to meetings these days...Yerko studying nites...Modgkins, having suggested the theme of "Whacky World" (Fantastic Advs.) received a carbon of the MS. from Hamilton, after the sale, inscribed "IOU 20 Scotch & scdas!" Russ' spare time is taken up, these days, averting the impending chaos...Hahn has written "The Worm that Rotted"...

LONG DISTANCE MEMBER: Bob Shinn, Corp, situated about 450 miles north of Shangri-LA at Ft McDowell, wanted to join the LASFS even tho he couldn't attend meetings. So he sent his 25c initiation fee and retainer of 30c minimum dues for first month, and states more money will be forthcoming periodically. Bob is also an Esperanto fan, has adopted the anational name of "Romco".

CHARLIE HORNIG "RETURNS" for the Umpteenth Time. Eighteenth inter-coastal trip brings nationally famous "bus"-boy back to Pacificoast and the LASFS. As usual, this time "for good".

"SLAN" PERDUE IN town about a week. Guest of Morogo & Ferry at Hollywood opening of double horror bill "The Wolf Man" & "Mad Doctor of Market Street", with personal stage appearance of Lionel Atwill, Maria Ouspenskaya, Warren William and others of the respective casts. Perdue snapt pix from the screen, and also of the in-person players. At his first sight of world-famous Hollywood Blvd, he leapt into the air, doing a Nijinsky and also clapping his hands. This was really just to please his host & hostess, however, as Ephless actually was unimpressed by Glamour Lane.

OLD-TIME FOLLOWERS of The Reader Speaks in Wonder will remember Joe Kufers as co-founder of the "KST" stf-play-on-disc studios; and the self-same Joe was in LA recently. Spent an afternoon at 4q's, dropped in to the clubroom just before returning to Omaha and...a Date with the Draft.

OLSEN CONQUERS ARTHRITIS. Stricken with arthritis of the worst variety, which took him "out-of-circulation" for two years, Bob has survived the siege and once again is up & around--and writing. Typscript of "Peril among the Termites" is ready.

SHANGRI-L'AFFS (Preserving some of that priceless old corn that flows so freely whenever imagi-natives congregate)

Fan X: "Did you read in the papers our men are voluntarily going without food to speed victory in the Philippines?"

Fan Y: "No, whaddya mean?"

Fan X: "Well, I seen a headline that said MARINES HOLD FAST AT MANILA."

Gerald Miller: "Tell me, Mr Johnson, is it true that the Univ. of So. Cal. is going to offer a course in Technocracy under the heading Fascism I-A?"

4e, pointing to Poll: "Hm, just one woman represented in each of the 3 major classifications: Catherine in the authors, Morojo in the fans & Mary Gnaedinger in FFM."

Art Joquel: "...and 'Femmes' Digest in the fanmags!"

X Fan: "Oh, they're talking Esperanto--the language anybody can speak, but nobody can understand."

Charlie Hornig remarked that Weaver Wright wore his 'Green Fantom' glasses along Beverly Blvd. the other nite, and four men threw away their bottles. (There is no truth to the rumor Weaver dived Wright after them.)

FLASH! Read "between the lines" and learn how Helen Finn gets on betimes with Geo. Hahn: "Has anybody here seen Yerke? I want to find out something about Technocracy."

Hasse: "Why don't you ask Hodgkins?"

Hahn: "Egad, I don't want to know that much about it!"

the publication of her "fommc", Stench. Well, part of the wench has met Mimi Pogo presents 4e with specially processed Bokopy of the Golden Girl in March Sfirring, the charmaiden having been transferred in some manner to a handkerchief. 4e folds into pattern of a tie, Helen Finn produces a pin and sticks it on him. Joquel arrives, is invited to inspect 4e's cravat creation. Art laffs, "Forry, you old roué!"

4e: "I resent that!" Ados weakly: "I am not old."

O'Graf and her boy friend, Art O'Scope (he sets the stylus!) and Henry continues

Hornig: "I climbed up to the planetarium in 23 mins. flat."

Helen: "Gee, what could you do it in standing?"

her Finnick stenchiling. Ere long, she expects to have a Finnished product.

Loving interplay twixt Mand & Acky: "Cyril, U are the 'Odor Out of Space'. No, U are the 'Off-color out of Space'!"

Cyril: "You smell like the inside heel of a German wrestler's boot after twelve weeks' use without airing!" (It's love.)

Fan Z, boarding "H" street-car during air-raid warning (all lites naturally being turned out) remarked, "Hm, if this keeps up, we'll be going back to the dark H's!"

Henny, in Crawford's car as Bill drives various fans home after a meeting: "What is that I'm leaning on that's so soft?"

Dorry: "Careful, that's Forry's muscle!" (Or, the gift of flab.)

Hoffmania, speaking of Catherine Louise Moore: "Well, I hope to C.L. soon!"

Ln-or, describing fantasy film: "It was wonderful! It was exciting-- it was gripping-- It was a mooodooving picture!"

Annex: "I wonder why Binder doesn't write his Ottobiography?"

Fan X: "Maybe because there's a missing link in it!"

Jack Rhodes, watching Hornig kibitz on checker game between Bill Crawford & Peggy Finn: "Can I kibitz on the kibitzer?"

Charlie: "There's a name for guys like you--dubitizers, I believe they call them."

Jack: "Then what would you call a kibitzer on a kibitzer's kibitzer?"

Unidentified Body: "Howitzer?"

THERE IS NO TRUTH to the rumor that the current horror film, "The Wolf Man", was (de)based on the awful biography of that anonymous fangeleño, Fan Necks. Cherchez les femmes? Nyx. X mocks the sport!
