The election returns were something short of phenomenal. Lynn Hickman unanimously elected me OE and killed the proposed amendment. That's right, he was the only one voting. Even Andrews and myself forgot to vote. SFPA certainly has a lot of keen interest and enthusiasm among its members. At any rate the group is stuck with me as OE until the 13th mailing. I was well pleased with the last mailing but this one is rather thin. I deliberately delayed stencilling and running off the O-O just in case some of the zines were delayed by the annual Christmas rush in the post office. However, we are two days behind schedule right now, so I'm going to post the bundles tomorrow. I'll postmail any zines that happen to reach me after the bundles go out.

THE SOUTHERNER

Future editors might take into consideration some solution to the delays in third class mail around this time of year. It might be best for a group such as the SPPA to have its mailing date set as the day after Christmas or perhaps the 31st of December. That way most of the Christmas packages the post office handles would be out of the way, and there would be less danger of some of the bundles getting lost in the mails. I think it's worth looking into.

ACTIVITY DUE Requirements are heavy for the next mailing so it should be a nice fat one. Andrews, Ambrose, Locke, Gibson, and Hickman all owe 6 pages. Norwood owes 6 pages also. Actually Rick owes 7 pages, but I'll waive the one he needed in this mailing if he fulfills his requirement in the March mailing. Andrews and Ambrose have published the latest ISCARIOT. Miz Fletcher had received a copy of it, but the SPPA copies have not reached me at this time. I delayed the mailing in hopes of receiving IT and possible other zines, but I'll just have to postmail them now if they don't arrive in time.

DEPT. OF OE & OC You people out there be deciding who is going to be the next OC of the SPPA. As it stands now, I will probably be editor of the University of Alabama's student weekly newspaper next year. That is a full time job, and I don't think I could handle it, my studies and an apa too. So keep that in mind and try to come up with someone who can handle the job. If anyone is interested in being OE, let me know and I'll be more than happy to ~~xxxxxxx~~ explain the entire procedure to you.

This news should not cause anyone to panic, by the way. My term does not end for two more mailings after this one, so we are all going to fall apart and die with this mailing. I'd just like to get some candidates lined up before the June mailing so we won't be so rushed at the last minute.

I guess this about wraps up this mailing. Let's make the next one the biggest yet.
