"turn the rascals out!"

Dear dear constituents: -

There may be some so poor <sup>in</sup> spirit as to cast aspersions on the private life of my honorable and worthy opponent; I, however shall not. There may be some who aver that he bores his wife, that he is an habitual addict of the bottle, that he is a secret lover of Fantasy-News. But I decline to indulge in such types of campaign speech. Let those others rail as they may; let them slander my worthy opponent, dragging his criminal record out into the public eye, emptying the sewers of his hidden and discreetly concealed past into the public and therefore sacred fens. I do not.

Rather do I state firmly and with the utmost conviction that my honorable opponent cannot possibly be so vile as these notarized affidavits upon my desk declare, as these genuine photographs prove.

Let us, therefore, leave this disreputa - ble subject while I say a few words about my plan for peace and plenty in our glorious & honorable organization,

First of all, this iniquitous plan to raise the already high cost of living -- er, I mean membership cannot be abided. It is contrary to our hard-won American principles -- those sacred rights our -- my -- four fathers fought for and won. Their slogan was "No Taxation without Representation". Our slogan is: "Taxation with Representation Isn't so Hot Either." The 50¢ dues must remain!

Our opponents may rave and rant. Let them, my friends. Let them surreptitiously pass around their handbills to the effect & implication that grass will grow in the mailings as I'm elected. We guarantee that the grass will be cut every week and offer free tulip seeds to every fellow member who will tear off the top of an asteroid and send us a 1000 word essay on: "How Lowndes has enriched my Life".

Let it be fully understood that these sterling principles for which I have always stood steer me as ever unyielding, unflinching, understanding, underselling -- oops, wrong line.

My dear friends, I am humbled at the thought of the great trust you place in me when you write my name in unwavering letters upon this ballot which is your heritage. In fact, so overcome am I with these pristine thoughts that I can only say to you, in closing, as I pledge upon my sacred honor to spend ten minutes every day thinking constructive thoughts in regard to our wonderful institution.
