

SEASON'S GREETINGS

MERRY CHRISTMAS

GLAEDELIG JUL

JOYEUSE NOEL

GOD JUL

(This is the place where I had a little poem - sorry to have to omit it, but I had to retype the first two pages of this issue of the CRY and here is the only place I have to tender you my apologies for sending out a Cry in this condition. There just simply isn't time to retype all twelve of the stencils and I think most of the rest of the pages are intelligible - if not, write me a letter and I'll try to tell you what you missed! I also apologize to all those nice letters included, I'm sorry as can be the way they turned out. I'd hoped to give you an extra special Cry for Xmas but I didn't know that the fellow that usually runs the time had gone home already for the Holidays and another boy substituted.)

SINCERE GOOD WISHES

Lots of news this time, but Ye Olde Corresponding Secretary is hard put to get it all down. Things have been happening so fast and furiously (no kidding!) that it proves hard to keep up with them at all, let alone sort them out and get them on paper in their proper order.

First of all, THE NAMELESS ONES here in Seattle were not only nameless -- we were homeless for a while, too. When the Security Officers at the Health Sciences Building on the Campus finally got around to issuing passes to persons who might have some business in that building after hours, they took one look at us and cried, "What the Heck are THEY doing here?" or words to that effect... After examining our noble aims and lofty purposes with a slightly cool eye, they decided that laudable as we might be, we had better meet elsewhere, where our nameless condition wouldn't be so noticeable. Sooo, there we were, out in the wintry cold, so to speak.

We voted a thanks to Mr. Alderson Fry for sheltering us so long, then looked around for another place to meet. Inasmuch as the Campus had already proved convenient, some of the U students proposed that they form themselves into a Student Activity. This would enable them to secure a regular meeting place on the Campus, continued access to the Univ. film library, and give some additional advantages in obtaining University material for our programs.

President Phil Barker went into the matter with U officials and found that the latter were willing, and a University Branch of the NAMELESS ONES was formed. This organization consists of University students and faculty only, but they are permitted to invite non-campus NAMELESS as guests or 'Associate Members'. They will have to elect their own officers from among themselves, be accountable to the University for their own finances, obey regulations in the matter of advertising and otherwise conform to ASUW policies, but, so far as THE NAMELESS as a whole are concerned, these regulations will not affect us and we can continue to meet on the campus, enjoy the excellent programs, listen to visiting speakers, and fill up on coffee, tea and conversation as before.

There will probably be a few bugs to be ironed out, particularly with respect to the duplication of officers, but since our present President and Secretary are both University students they can function for both groups satisfactorily (from the Univ. standpoint) until the next elections, and by that time probably we will have a better idea of how this experimental "Branch" business will work out.

President Phil Barker laid the invitation before THE NAMELESS at the last 1950 meeting, held in the Wolf Den Book Shop (with an adjournment to Manning's till the "wee sma' hours") and it was voted that we accept the University Branch's offer and use their meeting place and their facilities for the time being.

The first tangible result of this formation of a University Branch as a Student Activity was the co-sponsorship of the Instructional Materials Center in securing the film "THINGS TO COME" which is based on H. G. Wells' "The Shape of Things to Come" and is a 95 minute full length film. Those who have seen it say it is really a super dooper stf movie, with Raymond Massey and Sir Cedric Hardwick. The plan is to show it at the January 17 meeting and to charge 50¢ admission. This will cover the cost of renting the film ($17.00) (we hope) and the profits, if any, will be split between the Instructional Materials Center and the University Branch Nameless to enable them to open a bank account of their own.

Our first meeting of the new year will be held January 3 at the Hub -- Ye Olde Corresponding Sec. has been delegated to send out a scouting party, locate ye Hub, and draw up an appropriate map. All Ye Sec. knows at present is that it is somewhere on the Campus -- and that's a mighty big Campus! At the Jan. 3 meeting, plans will be discussed for selling tickets to "THINGS TO COME" and it is hoped that we can work out some arrangement for selling admissions in advance -- each NAMELESS ONE leaping at their friends and relatives, holding them down, and extracting fourbits before turning them loose. If we sell(!) enough admissions so that the hall won't hold all the people at once, Les Mangiantini says we can show it twice. Also, it will be possible to pay at the door in case we didn't get an admission in advance, but however we do it, if the boys are advancing $17 for the picture, we'd better show up and see it!

And now for news of note throughout fandom in general. I suppose most of you have already heard that Dimension X, NBC's venture into stf, is in danger of folding. NBC officials are undecided as to its popularity, and would like letters on the subject. A penny postcard will do -- all you need to say is something like, "Where's Dimension X?" "We want Dimension X" "Dimension X is wonderful -- keep it on the air!" etc. etc. -- give 'em the works. Send your cards or letters direct to:

DIMENSION X, NBC Radio City, New York.

(I guess a card to the local stations too wouldn't hurt anything, either.)

BIG NEWS! I just got a letter from Mari Graham (Mrs. Rog Phillips, to you!) who writes: "...Bill Hamling has asked me to write a fan review column for Imagination. It's going to be called Fandora's Box, and will be a regular department. The first column is mainly a review of fandom itself for the benefit of non-fan readers, but starting with the second I am going to cover the fanzines." .. She said a lot of other things, too, but it was a letter to me so I won't quote any more of it, just mention that she asked me to send her SINISTERRA for review. Ye Ed. Staff is working their fingers to the bone trying to get it out in time for her deadline (Toskey just dashed over to Tacoma with a fist full of pictures for Phil) and sure hope we make it! Good luck with the new column, Mari, says I, we'll sure cooperate all we can!

Here is a screwball thing I ran across the other day -- I will copy it word for word as it appeared in the Nov. 15 issue of Current Science Fiction:

"AN UNDERGROUND MOVEMENT"

"by W. R. Cole

"(The following article is accredited to Science Fiction Weekly of NEW ENTERPRIZE PUBLICATIONS, Box 83, Gravesend Station, Brooklyn 23, New York.)

" Although fandom is unaware of it at the time of this writing, a new secret underground organization consisting of fifty members, five of whom live outside the U.S., is positively working toward a goal set upon a specific date in 1951. That date is April 15. The time, anytime. The places, two cities; one-New York; two-a city three thousand miles away. No one will see any connection between these two great cities, but let me assure you that without these two cities, that which is going to happen will not happen.

"Let me make a few predictions as to what will happen on April 15, 1951.

"Beginning with my first prediction, I predict that on April 15, 1951 the facts and figures will prove that active fandom has doubled in size, and that certain individuals connected with this underground organization, whether they are aware of it or not, will rise to fandom's Hall of Fame. I further predict that this underground movement will never come out in the open, but will cease to exist on April 15, 1951.

"I also predict that an international organization will be formed as a protection for fandom by April 15, 1951. This organization will have individuals as representatives who will, by mail or in person, settle any of fandom's disputes.

"My last prediction at this time is that an unknown bulletin will be published by this secret movement which will be sent to top fans from various locations in the world telling these fans what to do to improve (or ruin) fandom.

"Now for a bit of information known to me through considerable research and prying:

"Four members of the group, the 'ringleaders', or I should say the 'never-to-be-sung heroes or heroines', had their birthplace in a small town called New York.

"One of these four is a female married to one of the remaining individuals, who is a veteran. The other active duty with the US Armed Forces, and the fourth is a big name fan residing in New York at the present time.

"One other town is part of the organization and this town is known as SAN. Quite a number of people who belong to this organization live in this town.

"Other individuals, making a total of thirty nine Americans, counting our four originals, are scattered throughout the country. At least half of them are well-known fans, I might add.

"Six other members of this organization get their bread and butter from it. Two others live in a neighboring country, and still three others are living many thousands of miles apart, and find it impossible to send capital to the U.S., also belong. That makes a grand total of fifty members, scattered over the globe.

"Monetary transactions have been completed, though, between these members. I hastily add, however that these were legal transactions. Although by this time they will have made quite a bit of money due to fandom, none of this money will come from fandom as a whole. The money that has been made in the past and any that will be future earnings is and will be perfectly legal, though underground in fashion.

"What they are doing for fandom, THEY DO NOT HAVE TO DO IN ORDER TO MAKE THEIR MONEY. Perhaps they are doing it only because they, basically fans, are willing to help fandom while along their routes of secret success, and to do so, at no monetary loss to any fan whatsoever.

"Their transactions have no relation to Science-Fiction or Fantasy whatsoever in so far as fandom is concerned.

"Although I am convinced, and have been presented with documentary proof, that this organization and its fifty members does exist, I do not definitely know the identities of the members to support my beliefs or claims.

"The source of my information cannot be mentioned by name due to personal reasons which cannot be disclosed, however, I will stake my reputation as an honest fan that this information has been presented to me in an honest and orderly fashion; it was also presented, as I said previously, with legal proof.

"How this can be done I am not at liberty to divulge. I would like to bring out a few names at first and gradually the names of all persons involved, whether they like it or not, just in the event this organization may tear apart the reputation of a rapidly growing and honorable name of fandom.

"A few of the following questions are addressed to any and all of the previously mentioned people who might read this article; Why all the secrecy? What possible reason can you people have to keep your names silent? Is this merely a front presented to me as a medium and to fans as un-true information - also illegal information since it is officially documented in one of these forty-eight states. Is this merely an attempt to overthrow fandom? To gain power for certain individuals? TO KEEP certain people out of power? OR TO PERHAPS WIPE OUT fandom altogether?

"Can fandom chance this? It is steadily growing. Why support a move which we cannot support since we do not know what it is?...see what I mean - how silly the first part of this sentence sounds? Why all this official news?

"Is it not better to force these individuals to work in the open, or not at all, rather than ruin fandom? What personal gains they might accomplish we can only guess at!"

The editor of SCIENCE FICTION WEEKLY joins me in this "crusade for fandom." I have on hand several clues, aside from the several mentioned in this article, as to their identities, but several more are needed before I can confirm my suspicions.

"All information as to the identity of any or all individuals concerned will be greatly appreciated. Whether in fact or theory, please send to me all information possible regarding the organization or any of the people concerned with the movement, or plans to learn the identities of the people immediately.

"To show just how far I am willing to go to obtain information concerning this movement I offer a TEN DOLLAR ($10) REWARD (OR IN CASE OF FOREIGN INFORMATION AN EQUAL AMOUNT IN THEIR CURRENCY) TO ANYONE WHO PRESENTS ME WITH INFORMATION LEADING TO QUESTIONABLE PROOF AS TO THE IDENTITY OF ANY SINGULAR MEMBER OF THE ORGANIZATION. If anyone has information please send it to the writer: W. R. Cole, 307 Newkirk Ave., Brooklyn 30, New York.

"My predictions may yet come true but the campaign may go in reverse...

"Will April 15, 1951 be the turning point of a new and better fandom, or will it mark the beginning of a dark age for fandom?

"I assure my readers that this article is no hoax. In the event sufficient proof is not disclosed within the coming months, April 15, 1951 will tell whether or not I speak the truth.

"One thing is for certain though - bells will toll on that date. Will they be ringing with sweet notes or tell a death knell? That remains to be seen....

W. R. Cole
"Fanzine editors are urged to reprint this article by Mr. Cole. Only the mention that it was originally published by Current Science Fiction is necessary."

Well, there you are. You know as much as Ye Olde Correspondence Sec. does. Sounds like some NY juvenile fugitive from a Walter Winchell broadcast, but just on the off-chance that it might be a newsworthy item, said YOCSS included it. At least, it gives us something to look forward to. -- April 15, 1951.

LETTERS TO THE NEWSLETTER - or, NOBODY COMPLAINED, SO HERE WE GO AGAIN!

Nov. 16, 1950

Dear Mr. Carr (Hah! Little does he know!)

My apologies for not having written you long ago. I have nothing I can submit to your magazine. Also, it's been two years since I've taught a class in writing, and I seldom see any of those who were in my classes. I married I attended one of your meetings under false pretenses. Alderson Fry is a good friend, and he suggested I drop around. Although I read and enjoy a small amount of science fiction, I'm in no sense a fan. I've never tried to write either fantasy or science fiction in my life.

However, I've often toyed with the idea of trying my hand at it. Perhaps at that time I'll become more of a fan. At present I find it too hard to attend your meetings. I'd appreciate it if you could keep my name on your mailing list, and when I do get to a meeting I'll help defray the expense.

Sincerely,
Wally Umphrey

Dear Mrs. Carr,

As you can see by the address, I am once again on active duty. Sometimes I feel sorry for myself and wish I had never enlisted in the reserves but it really isn't too bad. By January 1, my wife and baby should be here in Tucson with me and everything will be okay again. I haven't had much time for writing as I thought I might have. In fact, I haven't even completed a lesson in my journalism course.

Were you able to use any of the material I sent to you before I left Richland?
(Ed. Note: Look into the next two issues of SINISTERRA for the answer.)

Had a card from Bill Austin and understand he is moving to California or Arizona. It would be nice if he came to Tucson. I would like to see a fan group formed here, or maybe there is one that I just haven't heard about. If you know of any fans in this area I would appreciate having their names. (Ed. Note: Bill is still in Seattle, fans, so don't get panicky as yet - the wolf of the Wolf Den has not yet departed! Clark, I apologize all to pieces about all those names I sent! Must have forgotten to get up out of bed at all when I sent you all the fans I could gather out of NFFF lists and fandirectories that dwell in the state of TEXAS! Sorry as heck and a list of Arizona fans coming up as soon as I can locate them! G.H.C.)

Enclosed is a dollar for four issues of SINISTERRA. I have issue 1 so please start with number 2.

Sincerely,

CLARK.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

No, I'm not daid. Really I'm not, as far as I can positively determine. There's no ink in my pen though - hasn't been for many moons, as rarely as one can judge.

Just so that shock doesn't get a grip on you, I want you to know that I got your very kind note in re my opus called (imaginatively) 'The Stranger'; also that "free" copy of SINISTERRA containing same.

To put it briefly, if belatedly (well, it's the same year, anyway) your interpretation of the poem was excellent, but your illustration, well.... while it made these beetle eyes bulge out, was long gone from what I would have conjured up. Suffice to say, I believe that "L'Etranger" would make a splendid epitaph.

While I more or less consider myself a member of the NAMELESS (having attended 2 whole meetings, widely spaced) it has been for some time extremely difficult for me to attend: I work second shift at Boeing Renton. However, I do enjoy getting those cards and stuff and am grateful that the clan retains me on its list.

Also, just for the hell of it, you may be curious as to other relevant data about me. I am a college graduate, WSC '49 with a B. S. * in Psychology, consequently am vastly intrigued with Dianetics and am sold on it 150%. In addition, I am an A.S.F. "feend" from eons back. And I drool for Weird Tales in large quantities. I have a couple books by Ambrose Bierce that would unkink your hair, in the latter respect. Boogedy, Boogedy!

Well, you may as well know the price you have to pay for getting this inimitable note from me. Your plea that I cough up another literary treasure has borne fruit. You finally dragged it out of my subconscious, and its moldy enough to have come from there, too.

*hah!

Sincerely yours;

AUBREY (The Sun is Shinin' Somewhere)

GIBSON.

(Ed. Note: Illo by Barker this time, can't take any chances on bugging beetle eyes too far -- they might fall off their stalks and get lost, and then how could you read the CRY? Tsk tsk, couldn't have that happen!)

Dear Gertrude,

I have just outsmarted myself and I don't know that I like it. Among my entrance exams at W.W.C.E. was an English Placement Test. (In capitol letters, too) I thought that if I placed high in that I would not have to take English, which I thoroughly detest. So I worked hard on it. I even got a grammar before the test and studied the stuff ahead of time; this did not help though, because what I studied wasn't what the test was on and vice versa. However, in spite of this I placed in group seven, the top twenty-five percent. What happens though? It means that I have to take all my English next year, two years of it, (two courses in a quarter.) Ugh. This year, or quarter, I am taking Physical Science, Ancient Hist., Art Orientation, Library Orientation, and P.E. Everything except P.E. requires outside work so I am very busy. This is my day off. That science is very interesting. Geology, Astronomy, Physics, and Chemistry are all rolled up in this one. Ancient History is fun, too. He has us swinging on trees now. All entrance lacked here was somebody taking pictures for a survey. The best riot I could start was to get myself assigned to the men's P.E. That was a mistake though, really!

I stopped in to see Eleonore Rockey after I got home from the Convention. By the way, did you see what Newsweek had to say about the affair? I laughed over that for a long time until I stopped to think that I was included in that class of creature. Anyway, Eleonore is not too interested in starting a club herself, I do not think. She seems to feel that there would not be enough people here for an interesting club, although she would be willing to let her house be used as a meeting place if a club was formed. I, myself, do not want to get the ball rolling because I am going to be too busy to do much of anything except attend meetings if there was a club. However, maybe I can find some of the college students that are interested in science fiction and make connections or contacts that way. I shall see.

I have just finished Martian Chronicles. Bradbury can certainly sling beautiful prose around. Well, I have my nightly stint of fifteen pages of history to outline, so this has to be all the news.

Scientifically yours,

Dolores

Later -(a whole month later, in fact):

By the way, I have found someone who is interested in Science fiction, only she does not call it that; in other words, she is not a fan who reads magazines and fanzines. The only type of story she has read is the kind where people live on other planets, etc. Sits by me in science, so I am attempting to get her interested. Since this is the end of the page, Selah for tonight. Write when you find the time; you may have to wait six months for an answer, but you will get one eventually. Another by the way: I am not noted for my spelling, so if it doesn't look right, you don't have to publish it that way! Thanks!

Dear Mdm. Garr: (!!)

I herewith apologize for not having written for so long. Accepted? (Ed. Note: Sorry!)

Please reserve SINISTERRA #2 & 3 for me. Right at present I'm sadly lacking in that the love of which is the root of all evil, but when I get some more you'll find fourbits in a letter asking for the above, and I wouldn't like them to be all gone.

I had a beautiful article written up for you-all, spent a lot of time on it, sent for references from the Seattle & State libraries, etc., etc., and what happens? I got to considering the thing I had based it all on, Roger P. Graham's 'There Is An Ether Drift' (or something like that) in A.S. quite a period ago.... and, "like a bolt from the blue", I saw where he had made his mistake. Why in the hell they find out what's wrong with something as potentially important as that, so that people like me won't spend a couple of months wasting their time on it. Go ahead, leave it. So I should have seen it in the first place! Well, I didn't, dumb I'll say. I am the NAMELESS, as a group or as individuals, doing anything with Dianetics? I'd like to correspond with someone who is practicing or undergoing therapy; I'm in the unpleasant position of being, as far as I know, the only STFan or dianetically interested person in Anacortes, and Ken Turner, in Mt. Vernon, the nearest that I know of, is too far away for me to be able to do anything at all about or with Dianetics with anyone. (SOB!) as L'il Abner says! And I really need it, if, as seems from what I know about it fairly likely, it's all that Hubbard et al claim it is. My asthma.. for one thing.

But I must be getting boring. So goodbye.

Yours truly,

Fred

(Frederick McLean)

U.S. From the way Korea is shaping up, it's beginning to look like Hubbard was a bit too late. I hope not, but.... Oh, well, "Tomorrow's Children" will at least have Dianetics!

(Ed. Note: Did anybody else but me read TIME's latest crack at Dianetics? I quote; "One of last year's solid successes in the know-thyself field, THE MATURE MIND, picked up steam in 1950 and remained a bestseller all year. It gave way, finally, to DIANETICS, a gelatinous porridge of poor man's psychoanalysis which was originally dished out, appropriately enough, in ASTOUNDING SCIENCE FICTION. Equally astounding and to many critics equally fictitious, was Immanuel Velikovsky's pseudo-scientific WORLDS IN COLLISION, an explanation of mythological and Old Testament miracles that turned academic scientists from coast to coast purple with wrath. It made bestseller lists along with Gaylord Hauser's irresistible promise, LOOK YOUNGER, LIVE LONGER (by eating vegetables, yogurt, etc.)" Of course, they could be prejudiced -- maybe they're full of engrams!)

Greetings:

Wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year,

Eleonore Rockey

(Ed. Note: Wish you could have seen this missive -- had a cute little picture the size of a postage stamp -- of Eleonore, and clear, too.)

Well, that seems to be the bottom of the mailbag. I did receive a greeting card from the Cincinnati Fantasy Group with an original Bok reproduction on it, made especially for them by Hannes Bok. Somehow it disappeared at the meeting the other night when I passed it around. I sure hope whoever had it last will send it back to me because it was a personal greeting from Nancy Moore and I would like to keep it -- to say nothing of the Bok picture on it! Please look through your pockets, everybody, and see if you can find it. Thanks.

Speaking of greetings, while we were enjoying coffee at Manning's after the thing the other night, Jack Spear suggested that it would be nice to have a list of the fans who receive THE CRY, he said he wanted to use it for a mailing list, but something tells me he may find his enthusiasm somewhat dampened at the prospect of copying three solid pages of addresses! However, his suggestion was a good one in that he said it would be fun for us fans to know who all belong, so that we could exchange letters with each other direct, if we wish to.

Another good reason for publishing a list of addresses is to enable our fanzine editors to advertise their fanzines direct; we have about a dozen fanzines here in the state, past, present & future, and maybe more coming up that I don't know anything about, as yet. (Is that possible?) I'll be glad to advertise in THE CRY, of course, but if somebody is so chip-happy he wants to finance two bucks worth of penny postcards himself -- here's the list, go to it!

A Holiday Prayer

ALMIGHTY GOD, WHO HAS GIVEN US THIS GOOD
LAND FOR OUR HERITAGE, WE HUMBLY BESEECH
THEE THAT WE MAY ALWAYS PROVE OURSELVES A PEOPLE KINDFUL OF THY FAVOR AND GLAD TO DO THY WILL.

BLESS OUR LAND WITH HONORABLE INDUSTRY,
SOUND LEARNING AND PURE MANNERS. SAVE
US FROM VIOLENCE, DISCORD AND CONFUSION; FROM PRIDE AND PROFANITY, AND FROM EVERY EVIL THING.

DEFEND OUR LIBERTIES, AND FASHION INTO ONE
UNITED PEOPLE THE MULTITUDES BROUGHT HITHER
OUT OF MANY KINDREDS AND TONGUES. INSURE WITH THE SPIRIT OF WISDOM THOSE IN WHOM IN THY NAME
WE ENTRUST THE AUTHORITY OF GOVERNMENT: THAT THERE MAY BE PEACE AND JUSTICE AT HOME: AND THAT THROUGH OBEDIENCE TO THY LAW WE MAY SHOW FORTH THEY PRAISE
AMONG THE NATIONS OF THE EARTH.

IN THE TIME OF PROSPERITY FILL OUR HEARTS WITH THANKFULNESS, AND IN THE DAY OF TROUBLE SUFFER
NOT OUR TRUST IN THEE TO FAIL: ALL OF WHICH WE ASK THROUGH JESUS CHRIST OUR LORD. AMEN.
