Yes.

I had many important messages to give tonight. Some may be cryptic, some quite clear in intent. That is up to the reader to decide. But what of the greater causal reality? What of the universe that Nietzsche thought so much of? Where are all the flowers that Hulbert Burroughs used to play in? Why did Owen Hannifen say "It's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game" on the cover of the third apa F mailing? Where are the answers to these questions, and to the thousands more that our hearts long to ask but that our mouths forever seal into eternity? Where is the end of the beginning? How did Simak kill off the ants in the reality of the Websters? What did ~~the~~ yngvi do when Bjo turned him into "an itty bitsy teeny weeny yellow polka-dot dikini? Does anyone care? Why has Terry Carr stopped writing science fiction? How did Jack harness commit sin and still remain pure? Where do the rainbows go when the Orcs steal the gold at the end of them? Why do bees screw flowers? Why does Freddy Whitlege have white hair? Why does Bill Blackbeard wish he had white hair? Where did Bjo get her freckles? How dirt is the Cult, really? What year did Pete Vorzimer gaffiate? Who knows what evil lurks in the hearts of men? Where do clocks go when they die? What was the name of the little boy whose heart now sits on Bloch's desk? Is Bloch really an Inca? Why is Andy Porter really Andy Silverberg, Robert's Brother, in a clever legal disguise? Whatever happened to Damon Knight's Cow Jokes? Why are they udderly insipid? Where does the money go when you're making more of it? Who was Degler? Who is Wollheim? Why do we call Dave Van Arnam "Fats"? How many goats are there in a pizza pie? Why is Tucker a member of sex fandom? Why haven't I gotten my FAPA FA this month? Why haven't I ended these questions long ago?

django:Russ Brooker-I more and more like your artwork; the logo iâlo for this one was quite well done, and I liked the cartoon on the back, altho I'm afraid I seem to have missed your somewhat obscure last line.

Nyet Vremia #69; Bruce Pelz-I guess I had a freudian girdle when I mentioned SATA; of course it was Twig Illoed that had the top quality ditto work. Incidentally, I was looking thru a fanzine I found on the floor of Ted's basement, dittoed, and when I turned to the cover, found it were pubbed in April of 1940. And it wasn't faded a bit. Maybe Dwain Kaiser uses the wrong type of masters (Or maybe he talks too much about something he doesn't know enuf about). You can put me down as letting apa L have first dibs on anything I've published in it in the second year; altho there might be very few things worth reprinting, I'm much more amenable to Fred Fatten having first dibs. If you throw mattresses in the back of your car for the TriCon trip you're liable to be arrested for violating the Mann Act. The hound of the Bastervilles was well done and highly enjoyed; a must for the Best!

Milt Stevens: I knew I guy like you once. You two would have made great com-anions.

Rabanos Radiactivos #69: d Patten- You have a few inclusions, eh? Well, just wait until I go to the I.E.E.E. show in March; the only one who'll be able to understand the inclusions will be Barry Gold, and even then he'll have a little trouble.

Burn Before Reading #1: Bjo-But surely, Bjo, how can you run for Ultimate Dictator? Aren't you afraid of getting Commando Cody on your tail (disclaimer)?

Well, that certainly was inspired mailing comments for this week, gang. Somewhere in the last half hour I seem to have run out of energy, and all like that. And so I think (or think) I'll end this thing here with maybe a illo of sorts before I typo myself off of the page. Does Helen 5/8ths have freckles?
