

A CHECKLIST
OF fantastic
MAGAZINES

$1

This booklet is dedicated to all fantasy and science-fiction readers and collectors. It does not contain information about all the magazines that have fantastic material, though it is a good attempt. Several titles included herein have little fantasy but their inclusion was strongly urged by the fact that they are definitely "off-trail." Others, notably ARGOSY, are omitted due to space limitations.

Data on three titles, TERROR, HORROR, and DIME MYSTERY, is not complete nor fully authentic due to inability to check on them. Collections of the first two are extremely rare, and the last was rarely collected. BLACK CAT is also not complete. A report states its title was changed to THE THRILLER in May 1919, and the final issue was October 1920.

The key to the information on these pages is simple. The year of each issue is at the left side of the grill-work; its monthly date at the top of the page. Within each square will be found the Volume over the Number, as: 11 -Vol. 11, #3.
3

Blank spaces mean no issue. Some magazines were given only a number, and a few are given a number here only, for the purpose of making some sort of entry. Quarterly issues are designated by initials in a following space--W, S, S, F. Winter, Spring, Summer, Fall. The latter sometimes had A, for Autumn. Titles with the notation (undated) have their entries most always on the month of issue. National origin is also noted except for magazines from this country.

Thanks are due many friends and correspondents for their assistance, but, regrettably, they are too many to list.

The cover is the work of Raymond Issadore who also did much of the research for this booklet.

Good hunting.

Bradford M. Day
