In Explanation

Fanzines are listed in alphabetical order followed by the name or names of the editor and publisher. The publisher's address will be found in the appendix.

The data listed on the second line, beneath each title, indicates (1) manner of duplication, (2) supposed periodicity of publication, (3) number of issues published in 1946, (4) average number of pages, and (5) the stated unit price, if any.

The term "one-shot" indicates the magazine published only one issue, by design. An asterisk (*) following the title indicates the magazine ceased publication during the year.
