Conjuration: DeepSouthCon 31

DeepSouthCon 31--Conjuration--was held June 4 -6, 1993, at the Executive Inn in Louisville. Congratulations go out to Jennifer Wilson and Jack Heazlitt for having a wonderful convention. I heard only good things about the convention from attendees, and know of only a few minor problems that were handled so quickly that attendees did not hear of them. Jennifer was trying to decorate the Con Suite on Thursday evening when a number of folks wandered into the room to talk. Jennifer put out munchies, told everyone where the soda machine and cups were, and went on with her work.

They did miss a good bet when they did not make a scavenger hunt out of finding the registration desk. You just had to keep following the mazelike hallway and eventually you would get there.

The weather tried to keep down attendance by having severe storms all around Louisville. If you ran low on gas between Bowling Green, Kentucky and Elizabethtown, Kentucky, you just had to sit at the gas station and wait. There was no electricity because of the storms. Saturday was exceptionally cool so fen could not make use of the great pool and walk in the wonderful gardens at the hotel. Sunday turned out to be just beautiful and fen gathered around the pool and in surrounding areas. There were 361 attendees at DSC 31, including the guests of the convention.

There were many parties held at the DSC. On Friday night there was a RiverCon party, a San Antonio WorldCon bid party, an Alexandria, Virginia DSC bid party, Nashville, Tennessee DSC bid party, and a Baen Books party. On Saturday afternoon there was an Atlanta in '95 thank you party, a Birmingham, DSC 32 party and a Huntsville Constellation party. On Saturday evening there was again the Virginia & Tennessee bid parties, an Evansville Contact party and the San Antonio bid party, along with the congratulations party for the Rebel and Phoenix winners put on by Naomi. Thanks to everyone for all of the great parties.

On Sunday morning there was the usual business meeting to choose the city to host the 1995 DSC. After two nights of great parties, Irvin Koch and Ken Moore gave their bid presentations so that the group could decide which city would host DeepSouthCon 33. The votes were cast with both Irvin and Ken agreeing that ballots could be carried in from the dealer's room and from the art show staff. When all votes were counted it was determined that Ken Moore and his committee from Nashville, Tennessee would host DSC 33. Congratulations and good luck, guys. They then announced their guests for PartheCon (DSC 33). Their Guest of Honor is Elsie Wollheim; Artist Guest, Larry Elmore; Master of Ceremonies, Andrew J. Offutt; and (to my surprise) Fan Guests of Honor, Sue and Steve Francis. Every one in the audience was amazed by my red face and surprised expression when the announcement was made. The date of their convention will be May 11-14, 1995. Write to Ken Moore, 647 Devon Drive, Nashville, TN 37220 for details.

The 1994 DSC will be held in Birmingham, Alabama on August 26-28, 1994. Their Guest of Honor is Lois McMaster Bujold; Fan Guest of Honor, Bob Shaw; and Artist Guests of Honor, Debbie Hughes and Mark Maxwell.

After the DSC business meeting, the SFC Business meeting was scheduled. Election of the SFC officers was held with the following results: I was re-elected as President and G. Patrick Molloy was re-elected as Vice-President. J. R. Madden declined to run again as Secretary-Treasurer. Susan Stockell was elected to that position. Please refer to the minutes of the meeting for the other happenings at the meeting.

SFC Vice-President Awarded Rebel at DSC

Congratulations to G. Patrick Molloy who was given the prestigious Rebel Award at Conjuraton (DSC 31). He was given a railroad lantern mounted on a wooden base with a plaque. The Phoenix Award was presented to Terry Bisson. He was given a glass sculpture of a phoenix made by Steve Scherer. Terry and Patrick were both very surprised and pleased with the awards. What Patrick did not know was that Naomi Fisher was aware that he was going to be given the award, and she even helped find the lantern to be used. She had also planned a party, and had conned Patrick into helping with the preparations for it. Surprise, Patrick!

Convention Listings

J. R. has agreed to continue running the convention listings for us. Please keep sending the information to: J. R. Madden, P.O. Box 25167, University Station, Baton Rouge, LA 70894. Thanks JR, for your dedication to the SFC. See elsewhere in this issue for the latest listing.

Why is my club not listed in the SFC Bulletin?

Patrick has tried to keep a running list of all of the clubs in Southern Fandom. Unfortunately he has not had a lot of help from the folks involved in the clubs. If he has not heard from anyone in the club for several years, he had to take your club listing off the list, since addresses change, contact people change and some of the clubs have stopped meeting. If you would like to have your club listed, please write to G. Patrick Molloy at P. O. Box 9135, Huntsville, AL 35812. Send him the name of your club, club interests, contact person with address (phone), and time and place of meetings. Patrick is waiting to hear from you.

When does my membership to the SFC expire?

You can find the expiration date on your mailing label. Some memberships have expired as of the last DSC, but I have decided to send one last bulletin to all of those people in hopes that they will renew their memberships. Send new or renewed memberships to Susan Stockell, our new secretary-treasurer, at 1708 Acklen Avenue #25 Nashville, TN 37212.

1993 SFC Business Meeting

The meeting opened at 11:50 AM on Sunday, June 6 with SFC President Sue Francis presiding.

1. Members voted to dispense with the reading of the minutes of the last meeting.

2. Treasurer's Report: Sue Francis informed us that the balance shown in the last SFC bulletin had increased by $300.00, for a new total of $750.00.

3. Bulk Mail Permit: We are checking into the cost of a Bulk Mail Permit and what the savings, if any would be.

Annual fee:	75.00
Imprint permit:	75.00 (a one-time charge)
Postage 2 3/4 oz:	.198 (per piece)
4 oz:	.259 (per piece)

We can't use someone else's imprint (like Atlanta's) unless the SFC bulletin is mailed from their post office and used their return address. (Note: Steve Francis has updated up the address list by utilizing returns from three previous first class mailings.)

4. Past bulletins: Steve Francis has accumulated an archive of SFC Bulletins. He will prepare a list of missing bulletins to be published in hopes of contributions to complete the archives.

5. SFC Patches: Sue Francis has ordered 220, the minimum order. The patches are now available for $5.00 each, by mail or in person at any convention attended by a representative of the SFC. There will be no extra charge for patches purchased by mail.

6. New Business:

Amendment: It was proposed that we move to include Phoenix winners in Section 4(a). Wording to the effect that, "Winners of the Phoenix Award and Rebel Award..." are dues-exempt members of Southern Fandom Confederation will be added. The amendment was accepted by acclamation.

7. Results of elections:

Sue Francis informed us that J. R. Madden has decided not to stand for re-election as Secretary-Treasurer. There was a round of applause for J. R.'s hard work over these many years. The candidates were:

President:	Sue Francis (re-elected)
Vice President:	Pat Malloy (re-elected)
Secretary-Treasurer:	Susan Stockell (elected) Steve Francis

There was some discussion of separating the latter into two offices, but lack of interest in changing the bylaws stopped it. Suggestion that co-officers could be selected, but that gave way to suggestion that one person be elected and then could delegate as needed. Susan Stockell was elected. (Note: Convention listing should continue to go to J. R. Madden.)

8. Recruiters

We had many volunteers for recruiters, and the following official recruiters for the SFC were announced: Julie Wall covering the Birmingham, Alabama area; Charles Rutledge covering the Atlanta, Georgia area; Marie Miesel covering the Chattanooga, Tennessee area; Tom Feller for the Mississippi area; Jay Eichelberger covering the Florida area; and Naomi Fisher for the Lexington, Kentucky area. Thanks for your help in advance. These are folks who will be glad to accept money for the SFC and forward it on treasurer Susan Stockell.

Convention Reports

MidwestCon was, as usual, a relaxed, wonderful weekend party. It is held in Cincinnati, Ohio the last full weekend in June. On Saturday evening I had a party for Steve celebrating his 200th convention. Midwestcon had approximately 180 attendees.

RIVERCON

RiverCon XVIII was held at the Hurstbourne Hotel and Convention Center on August 6-8, 1993. There were about 850 attendees.

There were the usual happenings at RiverCon. A large dealers room, a great art show, gaming, 24-hour videos, filking, workshops, panels, and masquerade. We were even entertained by my beautiful granddaughter, Melissa (age 6), who honored us with a dance to open the convention. There were a lot of parties held Friday night and Saturday afternoon and evening.

Among other activities, RiverCon had its first auction to benefit the Community Health Trust in Louisville, Kentucky. This organization helps people who are living with AIDS/HIV who need help with insurance, medicine, a place to live and general information about AIDS awareness. RiverCon gave auction proceeds of over $1600.00 to the organization. Our thanks go to all those who donated and purchased items.

The next RiverCon will be July 29-

31, 1994. It will be held at the Executive West Hotel with Forrest J Ackerman as Guest of Honor, Paul Lehr as Artist Guest of Honor, Julius Schwartz as Toastmaster, and Verna Smith Trestrail (daughter of E. E. "Doc" Smith) as our Fan Guest of Honor. Write to RiverCon, P.O. Box 58009, Louisville, KY, 40268-0009 for information.

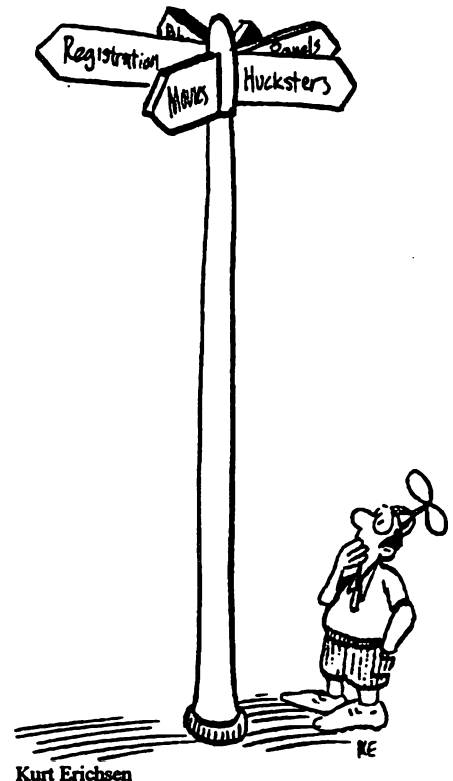

CONFRANCISCO

We arrived in San Francisco on the Saturday before the convention, picked up our rental car and headed North to Chico, California (yes, there really is a town called Chico). Steve has family there and we were able to spend three days with them. Brian (Steve's youngest brother) drove down from Seattle, Washington. So all of his brothers and sisters were together for the first time in about 10 years. We had a great visit with family and then drove back down to San Francisco.

We checked into our hotel, unloaded luggage and then Steve returned the rental car while I unpacked. When Steve returned, we walked around the Moscone Convention Center area. We were delighted that we had decided to stay at the Marriott (even though it was not a "convention hotel"). It was as close to the convention center as the ANA hotel and was much closer by about three or four blocks than the other hotels. Most of the fans disliked the walk because of the number of homeless people that lined the streets. The homeless were not aggressive, but people felt bad because there was nothing that could be done for them. I know there are homeless people in all cities, but I have not seen so many in one place before.

On Wednesday we visited Fisherman's Wharf, Alcatraz Federal Prison, and discovered the wonderful sourdough bread bowls filled with clam chowder. MMMMMMMMMM good. We rode a cable car back to the hotel. Wednesday evening we were able to get into the convention center and walked around to see where things were going to be. We went to dinner at Chevy's (a Mexican restaurant).

Thursday was the beginning of the convention, and we walked over to the convention center with Dick Spelman, and Pat and Roger Sims to get registered. We found an extremely long line waiting for us. Little did we know that was just the beginning of standing in line.

Yes, I have worked on many conventions and I know the amount of work that goes into putting on a WorldCon. There are thousands and thousands of hours put into a WorldCon during the con. This does not even count the work done beforehand and afterwards, and it takes a lot of people. But there were a number of people that I talked to that had volunteered and never heard back from the convention organizers. I had volunteered to someone that asked me to work in her department and sent in a volunteer form. I was not later contacted by anyone, so I just went as an attendee. Registration would have been much better if they had given out the program book at the time you received your badge and pocket program. Because they had a limited number of freebies available, the decision was made to give tickets at the registration area and have people pick up their program book and freebies at another location. I don't know about everyone else, but I could have done without the freebies in order to save standing in another line.

There was a nice dealers' room with a lot of variety. The art show appeared to be on the small side, and I did not like the fact that the Artist Guest of Honor's art was hanging in the back of the room.

There was a display area for science fiction activity from all over the world. It was interesting to see fanzines from other countries. They had a display of WorldCon costumes and all of the seated WorldCons and WorldCon bids had tables in this area as well. I tried to attend opening ceremonies, but after standing in line for 1-1/2 hours before being seated, I was told that there would be at least another 45-minute delay before they started, so we left. We went to the party hotel and checked out the bid parties that were open. We then went back to the Marriott Hotel and the CFG Suite. There was a great party there every night of the convention.

I attended all of the business meetings and spent a lot of time in the dealers' room. We did attend the Hugo ceremonies and send congratulations to all of the winners. Southerner Peggy Ranson won in the Fan Artist category, and for the second year in a row, Dick and Nicki Lynch won the Fanzine award. Laura Resnick won the Campbell Award and proud dad, Mike Resnick, accepted the award for her. We finished up the time with more sightseeing, having dinners with many fans, visiting old friends (Steve was raised in Oakland, California), and plain just having a good time. The 1994 worldcon will be in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada.

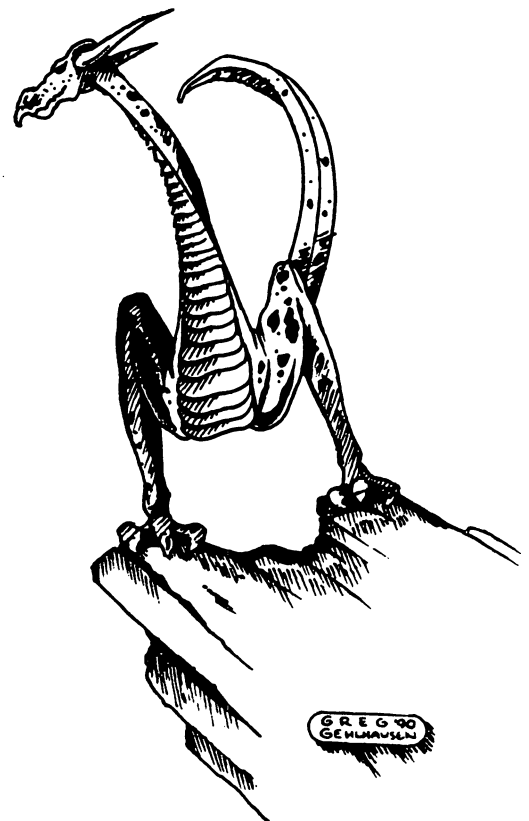

In September we attended Contact, held at the Ramada Inn, and enjoyed visiting with friends in Evansville. They have a nice, friendly convention (especially the jacuzzi), with an attendance of around 200.

In October, we attended Octocon at the Harley Hotel, in Cincinnati, Ohio. It is a small relaxacon, running just under 170 people. The convention's consuite, run by Pat Sims, is one of the best in the midwest area.

The last convention we attended in 1993 was SmofCon at the Griffin Gate Marriott in Lexington, Kentucky. This convention concerns itself with how to organize conventions, discuss problems, find new ideas for programming, and how to get and keep volunteers. Pat Sims and I ran the consuite with help from Naomi Fisher and Gail Walker. Naomi makes great cheesecakes, not to mention the other good things she made for us.

Letters to SFC

Dear Sue,

I read the letter about DSC by Elizabeth Osborne and after some discussion with the membership of BSFiC, it was felt a response was in order. Her first major objection was that DSC is a "moveable feast". I feel, and most of our membership agrees, that this is part of the charm of DSC. You visit a new city, meet new people and see and do things out of the ordinary. In addition, the character of each DSC is different. For example, the 1992 DSC was at the Atlanta Falcon's training camp. A unique experience.

I also found one of her comments interesting. "DeepSouthCon sounds like a very laid-back relax-a-con." I would like to ask her a direct question. Have you ever attended a DSC?

Her comment about people coming up and speaking with her is also interesting. Another question for Elizabeth. If you have attended a DSC, did you go to any room parties and speak to people? Southern fans are a friendly bunch, but if you don't make an effort to get to know us, then you will be left alone. We are too polite to kick down your door in order to meet you.

I do agree with her on one thing. DeepSouthCon is a reflection of Southern Fandom. We discussed this at the last BSFiC meeting, and the general feeling was that we are little less concerned with the programming aspects of a convention and a little more with the social aspects. We like to see our out-of-town friends, meet new friends and generally have a good time. We feel that this is enough of a difference to hold a con.

The bottom line is that if you don't like the way DSC's have been put together, get up a bid committee and bid for it. As a third-generation native Floridian, I would love to see DSC in central Florida. She is correct, there are several fine conventions held in her part of the state and there would be a great deal of interest across the region in a Florida DSC. For the record, no one has yet announced a bid for the 1996 DSC.

If bidding for a DSC is not her cup of tea, then that's fine, too. But don't criticize what you're not familiar with. Attend the 1994 DSC here in Birmingham. We might only have two tracks of programming, but we will have a video room and a well known guest of honor. We also have a lot of friendly people who will meet you halfway if you let them.

*Sincerely,
Gary Rowan,
725 Earline St.
Birmingham, AL 35215*

Dear Sue,

You are doing a fine job with the Bulletin. This issue was enjoyed as per usual. I really like the Teddy Harvia cartoons, although he should have used JD instead of Old Crow in the hospital cartoon. JD is a real symbol of the South. Sorry to say, but I can't get to DSC or RiverCon this year. Too many other expenses plus a three week trip to the WorldCon. Maybe I can make it next year in Birmingham. Best to you and Steve and keep up the good work on the bulletin.

*Your old friend,
Lynn Hickman

Sue,

Thanks for listing NOSFFF in the 1993 bulletin. Please change the address to P.O. Box 791089, New Orleans, LA 70179 for future listings. If people want information, this is the con address.

Special Thanks

A big thank you goes to Worldcon Atlanta, Inc. for their very generous donation to the SFC. Thanks, guys.

Mad Dog's Southern Con List

This listing was compiled by J.R. 'Mad Dog' Madden, June 28, 1993, from various sources such as LOCUS, Science Fiction Chronicle, Starlog, Fandom Directory, flyers picked up at cons (but, I do not plan to attend any conventions in 1993), and, very rarely, from the convention committees themselves who send the information out in good time. If any of our readers know of other cons which might be of interest to Southern fans, PLEASE forward the information to me at P. O. Box 25167, Baton Rouge, LA 70894-5167.

NOTE: In all cases, when writing to a convention for information, be sure to include a self-addressed, stamped envelope (SASE) with your request in order to speed the reply.
